DR. WALTER HUGH JOHNS
President of the University of Alberta

OFFICE of the PRESIDENT

EDMONTON,
Alberta, Canada

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Ever since their inception in the middle ages, universities have attracted men who wished to learn from each other and from the records of the past, to transmit learning to the youth of the land, and to prepare themselves and others for service to mankind in the learned professions. The scope of learning has grown immeasureably since those earlier days, but the quest for knowledge and the desire to prepare for a life of service still remain.

There have always been, and perhaps will always be, those who embark on programs of advanced study merely for the money and status they hope to gain. They too may have their reward, however ignoble their motives may have been, but those will alone gain true satisfaction from their efforts who place knowledge and wisdom first.

The modern university is of necessity a complex and at times an impersonal kind of institution, but it is our hope that each of the students here will find stimulation and challenge from his contacts with instructors and fellow students and will leave at graduation with a sincere desire to continue the quest for knowledge and understanding throughout life.

Man has made giant strides in probing the secrets of the vast universe of which our earth is one of the smaller units in space. He has also sought and found the secrets of the physical and biological world in nuclei of the atom and of the living cell. Horizons of knowledge which once seemed limited and unattainable now seem to stretch into the infinite and the challenge grows with each passing year.

It is you who are students at the university today who will carry on in this great enquiry, whether in the scientific or academic world or in your own professional field. We wish you joy in your quest and in the satisfaction you gain in placing above all else the objective of service to your fellow man.

Walter H. Johns

Walter H. Johns,
President.

JUDGE L. Y. CAIRNS
Chancellor

The Board of Governors, the Senate, the Dean's Council and the General Faculty Council constitute the governing body of the University of Alberta. Each committee has its specific tasks and duities, the execution of which are necessary to keep the University functioning smoothly.

The Board of Governors, presided over by Dr. C. M. MacLeod is the main administrative body of the University. The Board, on the advice of President Johns, appoints deans and all other academic staff. As well, the Board is responsible for setting fees, providing for the maintenance of present facilities and for the addition of new buildings. Each year the Board submits a report to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council which the Minister of Education presents to the Provincial Legislature.

The Senate does not concern itself with the academic problems of University life. It is a liaison committee between the University and the Province and concerns itself with maintaining good public relations. Another of its duties is that of bestowing any honorary degrees it feels are appropriate.

The Dean's Council conducts the day-to-day business of the University. As the functional Campus Administration, its duties are both disciplinary and executive. The Provost, Professor A. A. Ryan, serves as Secretary of the Dean's Council.

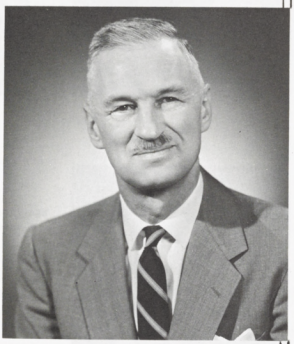

The General Faculty Council, in conjunction with the individual faculty councils, arranges timetables, sets courses and examinations and recommends degrees. It is the members of these last-mentioned bodies that come in closest contact with the student body and compose the largest segment of the University government.

The University Athletic Board is a group composed of both students and staff who, in conjunction with the School of Physical Education, organize and administer intramural and intervarsity sports. It is due to the constant efforts of these people that Varsity sports events function as well as they do. The Golden Bowl Football Game, a new and successful event, was organized by the University Athletic Board.

Student representatives on the Board this year were:

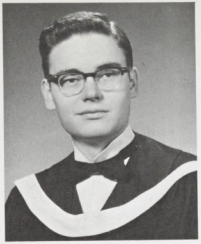

Sandra Kirstein
Hugh Lynch-Staunton
David Cragg
Margo Niewchas
Robert Gillespie
Fraser Smith
Dave Cruickshank

SANDRA KIRSTEIN
President of Women's Athletics

HUGH LYNCH-STAUNTON
President of Men's Athletics

The Students' Union

UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA, EDMONTON, ALBERTA

To write a resume of student activities for 1963-64, requires a historical perspective, an ability to look into the future to ascertain what students will feel to be the important accomplishments resulting from a year of strenuous activity. During the year, students have tried their hand at old tasks and have forged ahead into new areas. In many cases, we will be able to look back and say that our efforts resulted in success. In others, the results might not appear to be quite as favourable. Regardless of the outcome however, all who have participated in student activities will be able to point with enthusiasm to the fun and valuable experiences which have resulted.

There is one product for which I am sure we will be remembered. Many hours of hard work have resulted in a concrete, tangible proposal for expanded Students' Union facilities. The final plans have been a long time coming. In producing them Student Government on this campus, has shown itself to be progressive and able to take on very large tasks. In the process, we have proven ourselves to be leaders in the area of student government both in Canada and the United States. The building I am sure, will stand as a monument to student initiative and strong independent student government.

SUB Expansion has carried with it the necessity to reorganize our Students' Union. A strong, vital student program must be maintained as this campus grows and expands. Through reorganization we have provided a flexible structure within which progress can flourish generally and which will allow efficient and effective use of the new facilities.

The degree of financial sophistication required by such a project is considerable. Consequently we have had to revise almost completely the constitutional structure of student fees. By doing so flexibility will be ensured. In addition, the changes should allow us to derive the greatest possible value from each dollar. The result hopefully will be no fee increases even when the new building opens.

History will record this as the year the West successfully challenged the Football machines of the East. The "Golden Bowl" aroused a degree of enthusiasm seldom before seen on the campus. Over 6,000 students will count this as one of the highlights of their University days.

This year also saw the hosting of the National Congress of the Canadian Union of Students. Students will only forge their rightful place in Canadian society if they support this valuable national student organization. Under the roof of the new Education Building, many new and exciting policies were hammered out. For the first time in its history, the National Congress came to grips with the problems of Biculturalism. By grapling with this problem, in an intelligent and thoughtful way, students have blazed a new trail in Canadian unity.

A vital and continuing problem in student life involves our relationship to the academic community. Over the years this side of student government has been neglected. We have not taken an interest in academic affairs and as a result the students interests are very seldom heard. This year an academic affairs committee has been constituted. Its duties will include an assessment of academic standards in the areas of student and faculty attainment. Teaching standards will be investigated. It is of prime importance for students to insist that teaching not take a back seat to research or professional commitments. The trend in this direction is obvious and alarming.

Also in the area of academic affairs is the possibility of revision of the University Act. An intensive study of the Collier Report, a document approved by the faculty association, has occurred. Student Government has achieved its enviable position through close cooperation with the administration. If the University Act is to be revised students must ensure that the status they have achieved through many years of hard work is not lost. Students must be prepared to study closely all negotiations which are aimed at a revision of this Act.

Many people have contributed to the success of this year. The clubs and organizations have produced varied and stimulating programs. Student Council committees have also worked hard to complete many important tasks. In particular however I would like to say a special thanks to Students' Council and the Executive Committee. We have had a strenuous year; the results are clear testimony to this fact. Elinor, Dave, and Doug have been extremely helpful. Thank you for your efforts.

Thus the year draws to a close. The memories will be many. My best wishes to you all in the years ahead.

ORGANIZATIONS

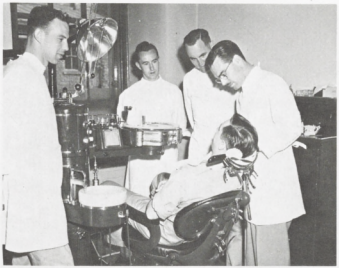

Presentation of trophy for outstanding first year cadet.

Instructions on operation of the Centurion Tank.

Dental subsidizing cadets training during summer camp at Camp Borden, Ontario.

COTC

A vital part of Tri-Service, the C.O.T.C., parade every Tuesday evening for three hours in the Armed Forces Building.

Both a summer and winter training program are offered to cadets during their university life in C.O.T.C. The winter training phase comprises all theoretical training, during which prospective officers listen to lectures given by military personnel and university professors.

The summer C.O.T.C. program takes its men to various summer training camps across Canada. Many cadets are given the chance to train in Germany with N.AT.O. forces. The summer program is largely practical training, but theory is also taught and practised.

The rest after a hard day's labor.

UNTD

The purpose of UNTD is to train reserve officers in the best tradition of the Navy. The University Naval Training Division offers both summer and winter programs which focuses upon academic studies in such diversified fields as: communications, supply, engineering, navigation, ship handling, seamanship and leadership.

The summer program in UNTD centres in Cornwallis, Halifax. Cadets receive physical training at the naval base or on board Her Majesty's Canadian Ships. Socially, UNTD's summer camp provides ample opportunity for interaction, naval cruises range from Europe to the Caribbean and give cadets a chance to meet new people and acquire a wealth of new knowledge. Sports facilities on the Naval Base, plus a variety of social programs give the men a chance to work as well as enjoy the extra-curricular activities.

The winter program is highlighted by such events as stags, mixed parties, mess dinners, and, of course, the Tri-Service Military Ball.

Perhaps the most rewarding result of UNTD is its Esprit de Corps, a product of the cadets themselves. Young men comprising the unit, are selected to serve in the Royal Canadian Navy through outstanding conduct and achievements.

Armistice Day parade.

Tri-Service ball committee.

Harvard Trainer, RCAF Station, Moose Jaw.
Jack Watson, U. of A. Squadron at the controls.

Drill during weekly parade.

Formation flying by student pilots.

RCAF
UNIVERSITY SQUADRON

The Golden Bear Squadron is the largest university squadron, carrying a membership of close to one hundred and fifteen officer cadets and staff. This year the Edmonton component occupied with the C.O.T.C. and U.N.D.T., the new Armed Services Building for the first time.

During the winter, Wednesday evenings are reserved for squadron parades, where each cadet learns service procedure and discipline. Guest speakers are often invited, at this time, to speak to the squadron on topics ranging from "Sino-Russian relations" to Portugal and Africa.

Cadets are engaged in a variety of activities throughout the summer with the R.C.A.F. First year cadets attend Reserve Officers' School in Ontario for six weeks, after which they join senior cadets, for theoretical and practical training. This training includes such trades as air crew, engineering, dietetics and personnel administration, the program being organized to give advanced responsibility as training progresses.

Socially, the cadets participate in many service activities. Besides weekly parades, the corp participates in two mess dinners, tri-service activities, and the annual Tri-Service Military Ball.

On May 8, 1962 permission was granted from the Department of National Defense, to establish a joint service mess at the University of Alberta. Last year, the University of Alberta commenced construction of the new building making the Tri-Service Mess a reality, and ushering in a new era for the armed force units on campus. The new building contains a mess anteroom, a drill area, a rifle range and numerous class rooms for the use of its members. Plans for the drill area are directed toward establishing indoor tennis, volleyball, badminton and basketball courts, for the men.

Prior to this year each service has trained separately. UNTD has trained at HMCS Nonsuch while the Canadian Officers Training Corps and University Air-force Squadron have used facilities on campus.

The Tri-Service Mess committee in conjunction with the Tri-Service Ball committee, coordinate the activities of each individual unit for operation of the mess, as well as for social and athletic functions throughout the year. The annual Tri-Service Ball, held in early February, is the major social event, planned for by both committees. The Ball, which is open to all officers and cadets, is eagerly awaited by all members, and is one of the most successful formals on campus.

WAUNEITA SOCIETY

Established in 1909-1910, the Wauneita Society promotes friendship and unity among women students at the University of Alberta. How Kola! Welcome to Wauneita! invited every freshette to be initiated into the Wauneita tribe during Freshman Introduction Week. This week also included coffee parties and a formal tea, which gave first year girls a chance to make new acquaintances and to discuss their new campus life.

Through the Big and Little Sister Program, each new coed had an upper-class woman to help orientate her to campus life. To a first year girl from a small town, or from the big city, it is very important to have a big sister to talk with, or to receive advice on personal matters.

Each woman student at U. of A. is initiated into Wauneita in this impressive ceremony.

Tuckwagon Mikamo Stowao, meaning Autumn Serenade, was the Cree Indian theme of the Wauneita Formal. Attended by over one thousand women and their escorts this dance set the campus social season with flying colors, and was one of the largest formals on the University social calendar. The annual event, held in the Jubilee Auditorium, was on November 2nd.

Apart from these main activities, Wauneita holds many minor activities and participates in campus activities. They hold a White Gift Christmas party in December to collect presents for needy children. Among its many activities during Varsity Guest Week-End, Wauneita sponsors a coffee party in Wauneita Lounge. Under the helping hand of Mrs. Sparling, Dean of Women, the Wauneita Society functions as a strong-integrating force among the women of U. of A.

GOLDEN KEY SOCIETY

The Golden Key Society is a group of students chosen for outstanding service to the University. The Society provides two hosts monthly who will help campus organizations to plan special events. The Society also takes charge of the extra curricular side of Freshman Introduction Week, Varsity Guest Weekend, the Appreciation Banquet and the reception of Undergraduate Foreign Students.

During Freshman Introduction Week the Golden Key Society organizes the Gold Key Reception, the Civic Reception, Joe College, and the Frosh Registration Booth as well as the varied displays in the Students' Union Building.

DISCIPLINARY INTERPRETATION AND ENFORCEMENT COMMITTEE

This Committee, popularly known as the "Disciplinary Committee", has the power to enforce discipline among Union members, to see that the Constitution of the Union is complied with, and to interpret the Constitution and legislative acts and motions of the Students' Council. It is composed of five upper-class students appointed by the Students' Council.

BALLET CLUB

Gill Parsons, Pres.; Joan Jackson, Sec. Treas.

The Ballet Club, now in its second year of existence, has made many strides in preparation for the future. It provides lessons free to all interested members of the Students' Union. These lessons are designed for enjoyment and help to develop grace, poise, and an understanding of theatre art. In this way it is hoped that the University will provide a ground for yet another phase of education and build a new core of people aware of this area of culture.

The club provides a one hour lesson in ballet weekly. Instruction is given by a qualified teacher of the Royal Academy in London, England. The club also has periodicals on ballet available for members and in the future hopes to bring in ballet films for members and non-members.

Although it is still a new group, the Ballet Club hopes to supply dances to help in the Jubilaires' production of Varsity Varieties. As the club becomes larger and more firmly established on campus, it will attempt a small production of its own — This is for the future and will depend on the enthusiasm shown by students on campus.

Students learn grace and poise during one hour weekly lessons.

CANADIAN UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

Bill Samis, Vice Chairman; Darlene Easton, Sec.; Pat Bentley, Chairman
Wes Cragg, Council Pres.

In their National Conference, held during October at the University of Alberta, NFCUS or the National Federation of University Students officially changed its name to C.U.S. (Canadian University Students).

CUS is the national voice of the Canadian Student. With over 6,500 active members from thirty Universities, CUS aims for a greater degree of cooperation and correlation among Canadian Universities. It strives for internal relations with the Student Unions of all nations. This is exemplified through their huge foreign exchange program, enabling exchange students to benefit from a foreign university.

CUS held their annual conference on our campus this year, making it one of the first times the Congress has been out West. Members later moved to Banff to hold more conferences at the Banff School of Fine Arts. Under the leadership of David Jenkins, they initiated the new name and some new policies into the organization which they hope would lead to a greater degree of understanding between universities across Canada.

DEBATING SOCIETY

Sitting: Bill Asplund, Pres.; Kristine Asplund, Sec. Treas.
Standing: Lorne Yacuk, Clayton Kobie, V.P.; Stan Brown.

The Debating Society is a club sponsored by the Students' Union to encourage and train students in debating and public speaking at all levels. The society holds weekly interfaculty Hugill debates, during which they resolve issues of immediate public interest. Besides these weekly debates, members elect a debating team to participate in the Intervarsity McGoun Cup debates. The winning team is presented with the McGoun Cup to take back to their University.

The Oxford Debate presented during Varsity Guest Weekend attracts many prospective law students, as well as many interested spectators. Besides these two major debates the club organizes many smaller Oxford style as well as educational debates.

Under president William Asplund, the Debating Society is of particular interest to Law students but attracts many other interested students and has so far functioned very successfully. Last year the team from the University of Alberta participated in the McGoun Cup finals, and it is hoped they will do so again this year.

UNIVERSITY SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Sitting: Don Cameron, Pres.
Standing: Dixon Thompson, Harold Kane, Betty Smith, Sec; Frank Dunnigan, Conductor.

The percussion section awaits their cue.

Tuesday evenings will find the University Symphony Orchestra hard at work in Convocation Hall, or the Jubilee Auditorium. Sponsored by the Students' Union, the University Symphony Orchestra is the only active university symphony in Western Canada. It attempts to provide an opportunity for interested musicians to gain orchestral experience by participation. The University Symphony also aims to raise the standard of ensemble playing in the symphony orchestra as well as in chamber groups and to provide a source of symphonic music for the campus.

Besides weekly practices, the University Symphony holds several annual Sunday night concerts on campus, plus certain main events throughout the University season. On December 17, 1963 the University Symphony Orchestra presented their Christmas Orchestral concert with concerto performances by Bachelor of Music students. February 14, and 15, 1964 they presented their Spring Concert in the Jubilee Auditorium, performing Beethoven's Symphony No. 8.

Their able executive administers both ticket and record sales as well as providing advertising for their concerts. The members themselves participate in the occasional sedate party, but seem to enjoy rehearsals most of all, especially the hilarious ones.

The University of Alberta is indeed proud to have such a talented organization on our campus.

MIXED

1963-64 marks the twentieth anniversary of the University of Alberta Mixed Chorus. The Mixed Chorus, under the direction of Professor R. S. Eaton, has grown from an initial membership of seventy to a present membership of one hundred and sixty. This membership takes in all faculties on campus, the members having one thing in common: they love to sing.

One of the largest organizations on campus, the Mixed Chorus rehearses each Wednesday evening and Saturday afternoon, all winter, in preparation for a series of three formal concerts held in Convocation Hall in early February. These are followed by a winter tour to various centres throughout Alberta, plus an exchange series of concerts with the University of Saskatchewan's Greystone Singers. Chorus activities are suspended for two months prior to final exams, and immediately following finals, the chorus members again board buses for a 10-14 day spring tour of Alberta towns.

One of these is a summer reunion at Banff, Lake Louise or Jasper. This year the Mixed Chorus provided half time entertainment at the Golden Bowl Football Game.

Touring costume consists of a navy blazer and grey skirt for women and a navy blazer and grey flannels for men. Formal concerts are a different matter, Chorus women don a full length formal, and the men wear black suits.

Only a chorister can tell you about the after-chorus times in Tuck, the bus tours, the bustle and billets of towns, and the friendships formed that make alumni say, "University was great, but I miss chorus most of all."

Besides rehearsals the Chorus presents a series of concerts to the University Campus and participates in a provincial tour. Membership in the Chorus numbers forty, and is open to any male student on campus with singing ability.

Members of the Chorus relax at one of their informal get-togethers.

JUBILAIRES

Sitting: Jan Graham, V.P.; Suzanne Semeniuk, Sec.; Glen Reid, Pres.
Standing: Peter Opryshko, Treas.; Dorothy Long, Marv Westwood.

Back to Bossanova and Varsity Varieties are the chief contributions which the Jubilaires made to the campus this year.

With approximately sixty members, the Jubilaires provides the cast for productions such as these, as well as the incentive for development of amateur talent. It also provides entertainment for many campus activities and is often hard at work behind the scenes in many other dramatical productions.

The Jubilaires hold monthly meetings and rehearsals when they are needed, especially for Varsity Varieties. They publish a Monthly Newsletter containing club decisions and information. As well they have two final parties during the year, usually after Varsity Varieties and toward the end of the year.

Varsity Varieties, which is presented in the Jubilee Auditorium, during Varsity Guest Weekend, is the highlight of all their efforts. The script, the cast, the scenery and the direction are all examples of their work. University students, interested spectators, and weekend guests combine to fill the auditorium for three nights.

The Amateur Radio Club is one of the most active smaller clubs on campus. Consisting of twenty-five members this club aims to promote interest and experimentation in radio. The club has regular schedules with provincial networks and other universities as well as amateur operation classes, and conducts beginners' code classes. This year the club was able to purchase new equipment with the money they received from a Students' Union Grant. To the electrical engineer, this Society is extremely benevolent. It sponsors technical paper competitions, industrial tours and offers subscriptions to society publications. The Amateur Radio Club operates in co-operation with Students' Union Radio Society, thereby gaining much valuable experience.

Several social evenings are held throughout the year, including a smorgasbord and public speaking competition on October 30. Hillcrest Country Club was the scene of a joint Agriculture Household Economics party. The club's graduation banquet and dance was held for the first time in the Sportex Building.

A week of square dancing, flapjacks and chuckwagons precede the big Bar None Dance sponsored by the Agriculture Club every March. This is the grand finale of the campus social season.

Delegates from Alberta were sent to the International Agricultural Students' Conference in Winnipeg in October, and representatives from the University of Saskatchewan were hosted at a sports week-end in February.

Various departments sponsor a queen candidate and campaign vigorously for her throughout the week, which is climaxed with the Engineers' Ball and the crowning of the Engineers' Queen.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Canterbury, no longer "a club", has been functioning as a parish consisting of the 1022 Anglican students on campus. Regular Sunday services, Communion at nine A.M. and evensong at seven P.M. are taken by Chaplain Brian Heeney. Through Sunday evening forums, Canterbury had interesting speakers on such topics as "Honest to God", missions in Africa, Nuclear Arms, and Christ in Art.

Liaisons have been maintained with S.C.M., V.C.F., and other denominational groups on campus, in order to promote a greater understanding between these worthy organizations.

Two student and two staff delegates attended the national conference in Bala, Ontario in September, and 25 students from Edmonton went to Saskatoon in October for the Annual Western Conference. Edmonton will host the conference in October of 1964.

NEWMAN CLUB

It is the purpose of the Newman Club to promote a social, intellectual, and spiritual atmosphere conducive to the "true enlargement of mind" advocated by its patron, John Henry Cardinal Newman. To this end, the Newman Club coordinates a variety of activities employing the ideas, enthusiasm, and participation of its members.

In addition to the regular Saturday bowling and the bi-monthly meetings, special projects such as the Hallowe'en Masquerade, the Christmas Party, and the spring Mardi-Gras encourage a greater social awareness among the Newman Club members.

As a compliment to the more academic pursuits, the Newman Club has organized a program of lectures and discussion groups. Along with this year's educational theme, "An Anatomy of Social Conscience", club members are engaged in a close study of Newman's classic work in Liberal educational philosophy "The Idea of a University."

The spiritual life of Newman Club members is fortified with Daily Mass at St. Joseph's College Chapel, the services of a full time chaplain, and organized closed retreats at St. Albert.

The Newman Club is also active in supporting the more general university projects such as the UCF Blitz Day and the Inter-Faculty Drama Festival.

The Club's activities are centered at the Newman Center in St. Joseph's College.

STUDENTS' CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT

The S.C.M. is dedicated to the proposition that dialogue and debate, discussion and often controversy, can assist the seeker of a faith to determine and to crystallize his ideas. It is interested in promoting a meaningful dialogue between the committed and the concerned.

S.C.M. has no card-carrying membership. It is directed by a student cabinet which attempts to guide the interest and the concerns of the student body, and to translate that concern into significant action.

The program centers around panels, "prof-talks", camps, seminars, conferences, and informal discussion, all designed to encourage thought and to promote understanding.

At Pigeon Lake Youth Camp students participate in small discussion groups.

All is not pleasure at any camp.

V.C.F. boasts its picturesque Pioneer Ranch camp which is located on Crimson Lake in the Rocky Mountains.

VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

The purpose of V.C.F. is to help Christians or non-Christians investigate together, the implications of the Christian Faith for today, and to act accordingly.

The V.C.F., which consists of about 90 members offers such activities as small group bible studies, seminars, and prayer meetings, to its people. On campus they hold Dagwood suppers, host guest speakers and sponsor a leadership smorgasbord. Off campus, the V.C.F. participates in Banff International Christmas and Campus in the Foothills at the Pioneer Ranch, in Alberta.

PUBLICATIONS

A DIRECTOR'S MUSINGS

The culmination of thousands of student hours of work is what you see before you, the Evergreen and Gold, 1964 edition. It might be said that the students on a university campus live a life apart from the rest of the world — if this is the case, then this is their cumulative biography. This book will tell a story, perhaps many stories, of the students on the campus — it is the story of students, sportsmen, playboys — it tells of activities, sports, scholarship, residences — in short, it tells about the University of Alberta.

We have endeavoured to present to you the university, its functions, and the conglomerate mass of men and women who are its lifeblood. In this book, through a series of additions and improvements, you can see a kind of universal thought, something that a university acquires from its students. It is that rather nebulous concept of unity in spirit.

To my staff, "Thank you" is not enough — "Bless you" is better, for you are the ones who deserve the credit for our success. For those of you who return, good luck with E & G, '65.

If sometime in the future, someone picks up a 1964 Evergreen and Gold and laughs, then our work has been successful. To the students, I hope this yearbook will help you remember the University of Alberta as it was in 1963-64.

Murray Greenberg

Barry Spence hard at work in the control room during a typical radio broadcast.

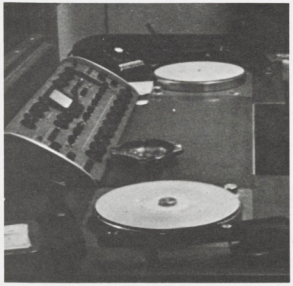

A-n-n-n-d next . . . .?

Under construction.

U of A Radio began in 1941, and in 1963-64 embraces seventy-five members, who operate an almost complete student radio service. This year saw the continuation of an extended expansion program, leading eventually to preparation for broadcasting by transmitter.

On the closed-circuit speakers, reaching to various campus student centres, U of A Radio broadcasts fifteen hours a day. Besides further hours, this year saw four newscasts a day, programs from every western university, and various special features. A complete second control room greatly expanded our facilities, and assisted the promotion of campus events. Our news department sent releases thrice-weekly to each major radio station in Edmonton.

And for the future?

Much of the work of U of A Radio is done with and for other stations. 'On Campus' and 'From the Performing Acts' are produced and aired with CKUA, and the latter is heard on many stations across Canada. Promotional tapes for VGW go from U of A Radio to every station in Alberta, and on V-Day, we practically take over CFRN-Radio for a special VGW day. The WUS Treasure Van also received special promotion.

1963-64 saw the commencement of Sound Service, a public address rental service, and it provided a most tangible contribution to the student body.

U of A Radio is a member of the Western Association of University Broadcasters and is affiliated with WAB and CAB. We have been one of the initiators in rejuvenating the CUS — affiliated CAUB.

And for the future? Radio Society looks to new studios in the new SUB, and eventually to going 'on the air'.

The Public Relations Office is a student service organization which provides, through various media, publicity for students and student activities. It is the main off-campus publicity contact of the student body and regularly sends the Gateway to all other Canadian universities in an effort to maintain some contact with other campuses. The Public Relations Officer sees that news releases of general interest are sent to all Alberta newspapers, with special releases sent to students' hometown newspapers. Television is employed as a media of publicity where possible and a project of major endeavour is the publicity campaign for Varsity Guest Weekend. In general, it can be said that if something of general interest occurs on the campus, the Public Relations Office will see to it, that the appropriate publicity reaches the people most interested in the event.

FROSH COURT

Providing a fitting ending for Frosh Week for Residence frosh was the annual Kangaroo Court, this year held on Sunday, September 29th. At this time the frosh defendants were brought before their superior seniors, charged with unspeakably heinous crimes, to face a fate worse than death. Few escaped. Thus, for such horrible misdemeanors as applepolishing, posing as seniors, and turning down dates with upperclassmen, suitably severe penalties were invoked and effected.

Brescia-Mary Manor consists of two houses which are home to twenty-four Catholic women. Begun in 1950 by three Pembinites, it was taken over by the Ursuline Sisters in 1953. The Mother Superior of this residence is Mother Sylvester. Active in Newman Club, the girls also hold social functions such as a Frosh, Wauneita, and Christmas Parties. It is significant to note that this residence shared in the winning of the off campus residence trophy in the ice statue contest. This year will see the closing of Mary Manor-Brescia.

ST. JUDE'S

Standing: Janet Marier, Raymon DeLimoges (President).
Sitting: Sylvia Landry, Lorraine Rackinski.

This Catholic Women's Residence has been in operation for ten years under the direction of four Sisters of the Holy Cross. The Sister Superior to seventeen women is Sister Florian. Interestingly enough, the majority of the residents are French this year. Besides being active members of Newman Club, the women of St. Jude's supported Treasure Van and Blitz Day, were co-winners of an ice statue trophy. Their special events for the year included an Inter-Residence Tea for Catholic Girls, and a Campus Catholic Girls' Party at St. Joseph's.

ALBERTA 47 - NORTHERN MONTANA COLLEGE 8

The Golden Bears kickoff to a string of victories against the Northern Montana College Northern Lights in a pre-season exhibition game played in Havre, Montana. (The Bears did lose an exhibition game against the Edmonton Rams 8-0).

Hey let go of my I

Bears' fullback Hale fights off two Manitoba defenders as he gains valuable yardage against the Bisons.

ALBERTA 28 - MANITOBA 8

In the WCIAA league opener the Alberta Golden Bears showed much power against an improved Manitoba team. Scoring for the winning Bears were Metro Roseiwich with two touchdowns, Rennie Bradley with one, and Ron Marteniuk with a field goal and three converts.

Alberta was without the services of number one quarterback Gary Smith whose ankle was recovering from an injury suffered in a pre-season exhibition game. Willie Algajer and Gord Willans filled in more than adequately for the injured Smith.

Husky Fullback Brian Hammerton cuts into Bear defence before being stopped by Randy Spencer (23) and Val Schneider (74).

Receiving little assistance from Paul Brady (64) is helmetless quarterback Willy Algajer, as he is brought to rest by three Husky tacklers.

ALBERTA 78 - SASKATCHEWAN 0

ALBERTA 47- SASKATCHEWAN 23

After losing 78-0 to the Bears in their first encounter, the Huskie team showed new spirit in the second game. During the last half they made a second Bears victory seem dubious by scoring 23 points. By late in the third quarter Saskatchewan had narrowed the Bears' 20-0 halftime lead to 20-16. Coach Fracas then sent in alternate QB Willie Algajer to spark a listless offence. Spark it he did and the Bears scored 27 more points for the victory. The main point-getters for the Bears were: Neilson, 3 touchdowns; Kachman, 2 touchdowns; and Strifler, 1 touchdown.

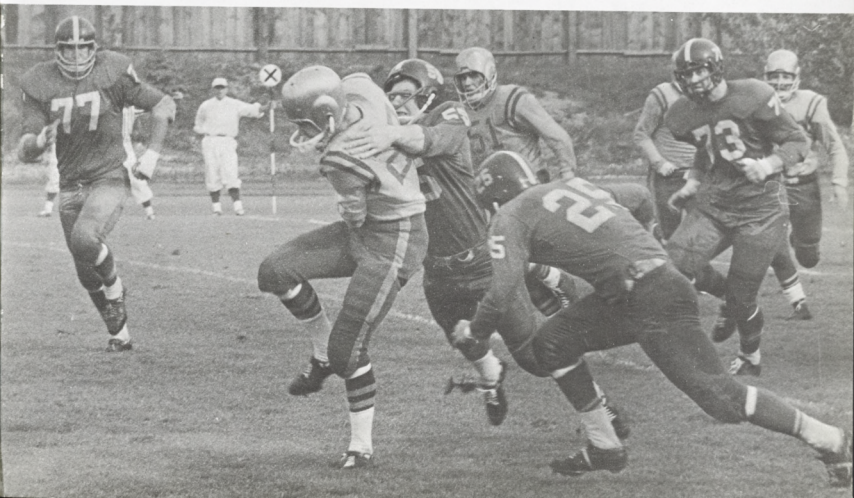

Hey Frank, do you think you can get Marteniuk a date after the game?

ALBERTA 44 - BRITISH COLUMBIA 33

At the Coast the Alberta Golden Bears rolled to their fourth straight victory as they trounced the second place UBC Thunderbirds. A game which was predicted to be a closely fought contest between Alberta's powerful offense and UBC's strong defence soon broke wide open with the Bears' Ken Nielson and Clarence Kachman each running kickoffs back for 90 yards and two quick touchdowns.

Bears' scoring was distributed throughout the backfield with half-back Ken Nielson accounting for three TD's while the other half, Clarence Kachman, added two more majors. Fullbacks Metro Roseiwich and Bert Carron each added one major. Guard Ron Marteniuk kicked two converts for the Bears.

Irwin Strifler with some blocking from Bruce Switzer (62) and Dick Wintermute (51) drives for yards against a tough Manitoba line.

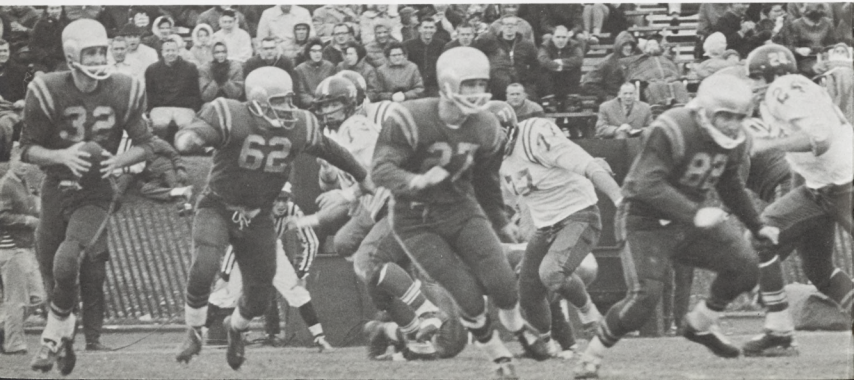

ALBERTA 49 - MANITOBA 1

In a second contest with Manitoba played in Winnipeg, the Golden Ones were again invincible. Quarterback Gary Smith passed for 297 yards, mainly to Nielson and Kachman. Bert Carron rambled for over 100 yards on the ground to complete the devastation.

ALBERTA 29 - BRITISH COLUMBIA 2

In the final game of the regular season the Golden Bears proved to everyone that they were the best in the West. The Bears adjusted their defense which two weeks before had been penetrated by the sharp passing of UBC's quarterback Dick Gibbons and made the afternoon a miserable one for the BC pivot. Alberta's offense clicked with the two fine pulling guards Bruce Switzer (62) and Mike Stanford (82) opening up holes for the Golden Bear backs and giving QB Smith (32) the needed pass protection (see below). Smith found Ken Nielson in the clear on many occasions and had a fine afternoon in the passing department.

Helping capture the Hardy Cup, Bert Carron scored two touchdowns, Irwin Strifler scored one and Ken Nielson scored one. Nielson's was the most spectacular of the day when after taking Smith's swing pass he romped 85 yards to the Bird's end zone.

GOLDEN

BOUNCE

Bob Lampard finds himself surrounded by Golden Bowl lovelies. Helen McRoberts (I.F.C.); Maureen McFarland (Arts & Science); Doreen McIntyre (Education); Kathy Moon (Engineering); Joanne Hedenstrom (Commerce). The girls were sponsored by groups in brackets.

Helen McRoberts (below) . . . happy, gracious and popular Queen of the Golden Bowl.

The Golden Bowl '63 is past. Some 9,000 people can look back with pride on their team's performance. The student spectator may also reflect that in some small, nevertheless meaningful way he took part in the event — indeed a spectacle that could become an annual "Grey Cup" for Canadian Campuses.

What should not be forgotten, or permitted to be eclipsed by our victory in the game itself, is the story behind the classic. Bob Lampard, President of the Promotions Committee, with many loyal supporters designed and carried out the massive project. It was Lampard who made the phone calls East obtaining the consent of Queen's to play; it was Lampard and his helpers who managed the support of prominent business men and sportsmen; organized publicity, and planned the festivities leading up to and following the game.

The Bowl Bounce, held at the Ed Gym, was the first event of the weekend.

Good-looking Queens . . .

PARADE

Queens, dignitaries, bands, floats, and cheerleaders made up a parade that started from the Physed building and made its way to Clarke Stadium for the kick-off. Once again Bob Lampard and the Promotions Committee were responsible for whatever success was evidenced.

Some impartial observers suggested that the Bears success was inevitable in that they had dental hygiene going for them . . .

Pre-game antics.

Cheerleaders were at their cheering best.

THE GAME

IN RETROSPECT:

one heavenly victory

President Johns holds, Lieutenant Governor Page kicks to give official atmosphere to East-West final.

We kickoff to begin the game

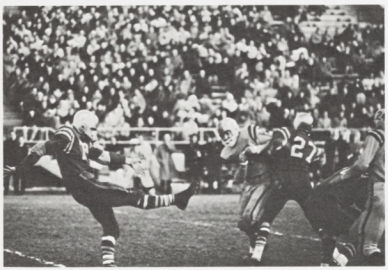

Quarterback Gary Smith on the verge of a pass completion to Ken Neilsen.

Maury Van Vliet (Above) offensive end, and Alberta's Athlete of the Year in 1961-62, kicked, blocked and caught passes to spark the Golden Bear attack.

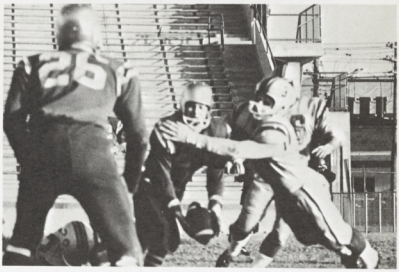

The players featured on this page are all All-Stars — they played like it!

Diminutive halfback, Clarence Kachman (right) had an outstanding rookie season with the Bears. "Kach" led the Bears in scoring during the season. He dazzled the Gaels with his speed and cuts, and can look back on the big game as one of his greatest.

Kachman leaps up to snare Smith's pass.

As Gael tacklers move in, Kachman spots Nielsen and laterals to him.

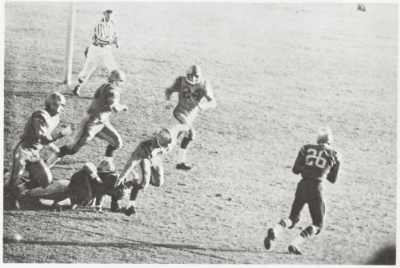

BEARS 9 GAELS 0

The Bears started rolling early in the first quarter. Carron bruised for five yards. Then Nielsen rambled for 29 yards after catching a screen pass from Smith. On the next play, Smith found Kachman in the open on the Gael 15-yard line. This sequence of pictures illustrates what happened next.

Shortly after the Bear touchdown, linebackers Maynard Vollan and Verne McKay broke through to spill Gael quarterback, Cal Conner five yards behind his own goal line. At the end of the half, Bears led 9-0.

Kachman is headed for the hard ground but the ball is in the air and the Gaels are caught off balance.

Nielsen, patient for so long, tucks the ball away and is off for Bears first touchdown.

Gael quarterback, Cal Conner, breaks away from Bear tackler on the way to spectacular 91-yard touchdown romp.

Irwin Strifler goes over to give Alberta a commanding lead.

Fullback Bert Carron showing a flash of brilliance eludes a tackler. Carron scored the final Bear touchdown.

BEARS 25

GAELS 7

Just after the second half opened, Cal Conner, bootlegged the ball around the end and ran 91 yards to score. For a moment it looked as though the Gaels would come back to win. But the Bears never lapsed again. Only minutes before the quarter ended, tackle Ron Marteniuk kicked a field goal.

In the final quarter Strifler scored from the Gael's one-yard line. The Bears were out in front 19-7. Bert Carron added insult to injury shortly after, putting the Bears ahead 25-7. Although the convert attempt was blocked, the Bears were hardly worried. The game ended on a final humiliating note for the Gaels as they were stopped for no gain on the Bear's one-yard line.

J. Percy Page, Alberta's Lieutenant Governor, presents championship trophy to co-captains Gary Naylor and Ron Marteniuk. Students' Union Business Manager, Bryan Clark, and jubilant Bear fans look on.

"Down comes the Berlin Wall"

Delirious, spirited (sic) fans attacked the goal posts. The posts did not go down without a fight. A number of these adventurers wore battle scars to class on Monday.

Even the E&G Director was smiling.

About that game . . .

In the evening players of both teams were honored by a stag held at an Edmonton country club. Players then went out on the town. Most of the fun was at the Bromo Ball (L. and R.)

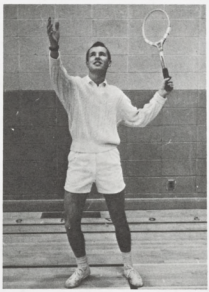

Lyall McCurdy, Diana Farris, Francis Van Hesteren, Cam Dalgleish. Missing: Pat Shandro, Heather McPherson.

TENNIS

U of A tennis team swept the Western Intercollegiate Tennis Finals held October 18 and 19. Men's singles went to Cam Dalgleish, men's doubles to Lyall McCurdy and Cam, and mixed doubles to Francis Van Hesteren and Diana Farris. Heather McPherson and Pat Shandro combines to win women's doubles, then Diana Farris returned to take women's singles. Only one set was lost during the tournament, a tribute to the team.

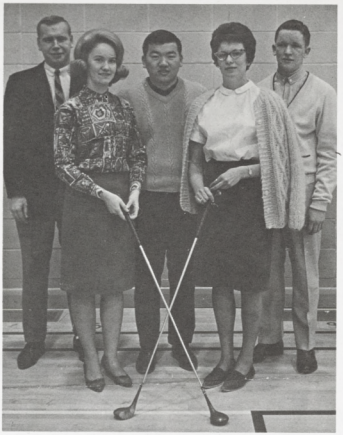

Cam Dalgleish combines form and know-how to win men's singles.

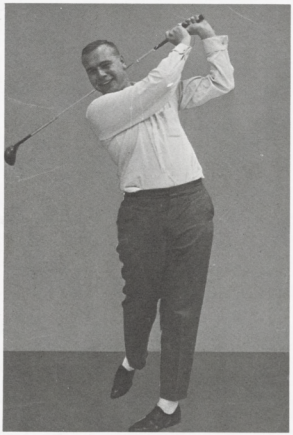

Tennis anyone?

GOLF

The golf meet this year was held in Manitoba, and the teams fared not too badly. The men finished third; the women's team finished second, only two strokes behind University of Saskatchewan. A Gateway editorial pointed out that perhaps our golfers might be more successful if they were given the time to shoot a few practice rounds before the competition.

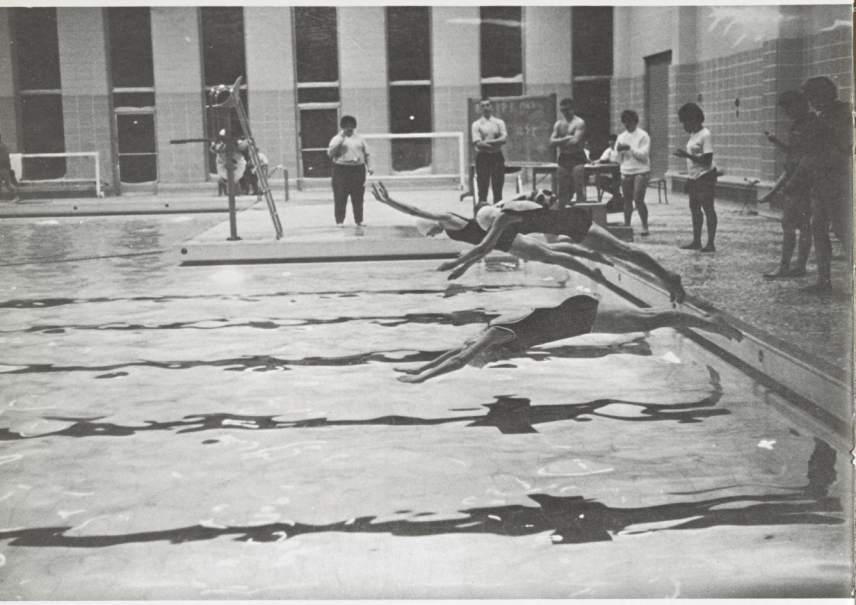

John Patrick, Carolyn Dyck, Maurice Kishiuchi, Sandra Kirstein, Errol Jones. Missing: Mary-Beth Milligan.

Hey, it's on the green!

With a swing like that, how can we lose?

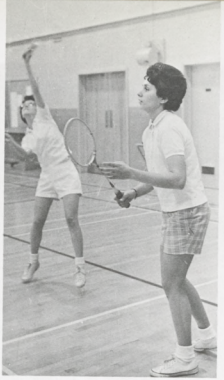

Competitive, synchronized and novelty swimming events were held in the Physical Education Building pool.

Sports learned, friendships renewed and made in Women's Intramurals

Good fun arising from keen competition is the purpose of women's intramurals. Archery was the first intramural activity and was followed by a variety of sports from badminton to skiing, broomball, and swimming, testifying to the variety of interests to which the schedule appealed. Thirteen units battled towards the Rose Bowl, emblem of unit supremacy.

Two Activity Nights provided rewarding and enjoyable evenings of activity for all girls with the entire Physical Education building open for events in badminton, basketball, volleyball, handball, broomball, skating, water polo, swimming, judo and fencing, as well as modified sports such as paddle tennis and pingminton.

At the end of the season, the Intra-mural Awards Coffee Party brought sponsors and participants together for the presentation of individual minor awards and unit trophies.

It's Jane Webb and Lois Taylor.

Badminton needs much concentration.

BADMINTON

Physiotherapy's Helen Rutherford emerged as the winner in Badminton Singles while Lois Taylor and Jane Webb won the Doubles competition for the Faculty of Arts. It was the unit of Physical Education however that finished in first place.

BASKETBALL

The intramural Basketball competitions were one of the most exciting activities on the campus this year. Anne McKinnon was the sports manager for the season.

The winning Pembina unit included: Carol-Ann Madsen, Eva White, Sandy Tedford, Nancy Parsons, Diane Dillenbeck, Sandy Walters.

GOLF

The miniature golf tournament was greeted with enthusiasm early in October. Lee Hopper, Joan Pendleton, and Ann McKinnon placed first, second and third, respectively in individual competition. When it was all over, Education, Physical Education, Physical Education and Panhellenic had accumulated the most points as units.

"It's really very simple . . ."

ARCHERY

Pembina was the winning unit in this game of William Tell, followed closely by Education Physical Education. Moe Russell captured number one spot in the individual honors.

A little weak in the knees.

VOLLEYBALL

Volleyball turned out to be the most popular intramural sport again this year. It was managed by Carolyn Dyck and ran from January 25 well into February. Of course, every unit was striving to increase Rose Bowl standings, so good natured rivalry was keen.

. . . . . it went that-a-way!

All eyes on the ball! . . .

CURLING

Curling proved to be another popular sport this year being held at the Balmoral Curling Rink. Mary-Louise Flaig was W.A.A. Sports Manager and it was the unit of Dental Auxiliary that 'swept the house' with the most points.

It's a knock-out.

Anything for a picture . . . Sorry we missed the season.

TENNIS

It was Marna Moen who managed this intramural activity. Instruction was provided for those in the beginning stages while the others participated in 'keen' competition. Olive Lee was the winner for singles while the Physical Education unit came away with first place honours.

BROOMBALL

This sport was held in the ice arena and proved to be one of the most hilarious activities of the year. The winning team was Education Physical Education followed respectively by Physical Education and Home Economics, in second and third places. Elaine Sadd was the sports manager.

What's that man doing on the ice?!

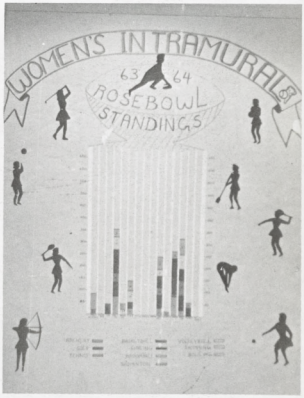

This is the face-off?

W.A.A. EXECUTIVE. Sitting: Wendy Dahlgren, Sandy Kirstein, Margo Niewchas. Standing: Diane Niewchas, Moe Russell, Ida Thomson.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

W.A.A. endeavored to successfully promote both intramural and intervarsity athletics among all coeds on campus.

Ingenious eh? . . . and it's full color!

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

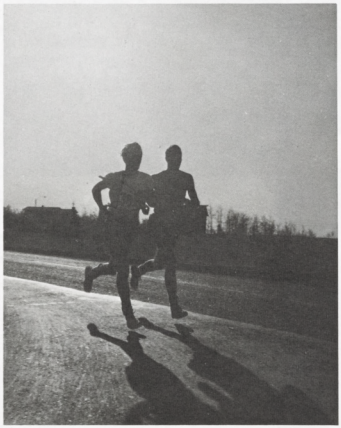

Flag football once again attracted players from all competing units. 641 participants took part in this year's most popular intramural sport.

Education emerged victorious with Lamda Chi Alpha in second place and St. Joseph's with Kappa Sigma sharing third spot.

Members of the winning team were Anderson, Barker, Keller, Schoenrock, Horn, Kostuv, Wacowich, Olsen, Smith, Springer, Ellenwood and Wojiciki.

Optimism, high spirits and lots of enthusiasm led 450 runners to the starting line of this year's two and one half mile cross country race.

Of the 450 enthused starters, only 267 of these managed to cross the finish line.

First and second place went to Lampard and Churombo of Medicine, while Hnatiuk of Science legged his way to third spot.

In archery this year, top marksman out of 78 contenders (a good turnout for a sport only in its second year of operation), was Martin Murenbuld of Delta Upsilon with Steed (L.D.S.) and McArthur (D.K.E.) in second and third spots.

FROM THE OPENING WHISTLE:

Korchinsky soars as Smith and Fisher look on.

THE BEARS REBOUNDED WELL,

Hutchinson and Korchinsky form a fearsome rebounding duo as Smith watches in eager anticipation.

THE BEARS CHECKED WELL,

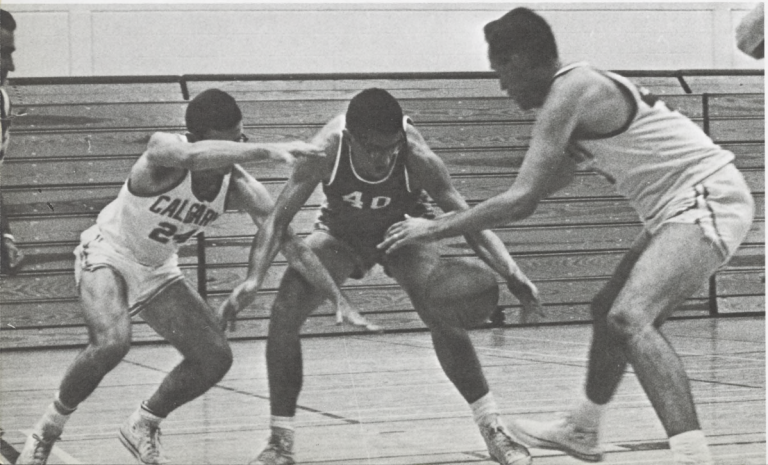

Strifler attempts to block a shot as Hayés and Krenz look on.

Korchinsky comes out on top.

John Hennessey, a lone Bear warrior, fights for possession of the ball.

AND SHOT WELL,

BUT WITH SUPERIOR COMPETITION TO CONTEND WITH, AGAIN FAILED TO DOMINATE THE W.I.B.U.

Under the able hands of rookie coach Jim Munro, the 1963-64 edition of the Bears took on a new look. Using a polished reverse action and fast break offense, the Bears hustled and fought their way through their conference.

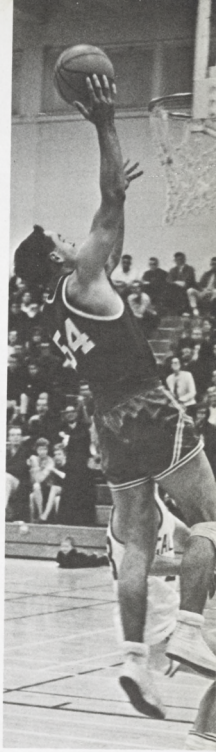

Gaining a wealth of experience in pre-season exhibition games against the Montana Northern Lights, Malmstrom Air Base, and the Harlem Stars, the Bears opened the season with a pair of victories against U.A.C. followed by back to back wins against Manitoba. After leading both U.B.C. and Saskatchewan at half-time, the Bears dropped four heartbreakers. The remainder of the season saw the Bears fight desperately in hope of finishing second in the W.I.B.U.

No one individual can be picked out as a consistent star of the team. Looking at separate series however, we must pick Doug Krenz as the star of the Montana games, Gary Smith as the star of the U.B.C. series, and Doug Hayes as the star against Saskatchewan. Darwin Semotiuk had a great season, but when he was injured Fred Shandro more than adequately filled in for him.

A rookie coach with only one year's experience, a backbone of veterans, as well as a crop of fine rookies, added up to a fine year.

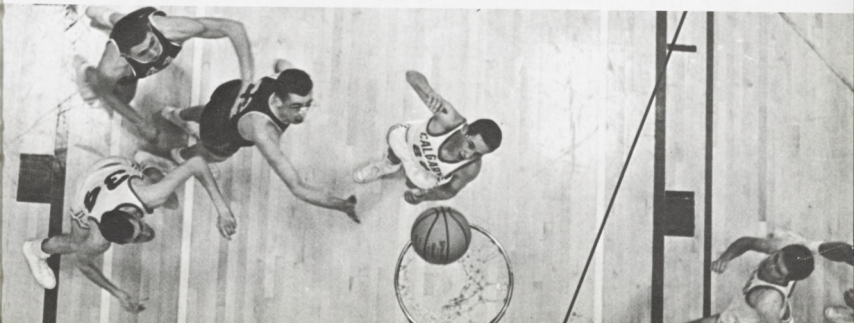

Fisher takes aim.

Shandro scores.

Doug Krenz applies the final touch.

After winning one of three games played in Lethbridge and losing two of two in Saskatoon, the Pandas did fairly well in Calgary. There, teams from the University of British Columbia, University of Manitoba, University of Alberta—Calgary, and University of Alberta—Edmonton, participated in the WCIAA Sports Weekend. The Pandas won two out of four games, defeating UBC 54-51 on two different occasions. In the other games, UAE lost to U of M 48-45, and to U of S 72-45. It seems the other teams did much the same thing since tournament standings showed UAE, U of M and UBC tied for second place. University of Saskatchewan was first and took the Cecil E. Race trophy.

CUBS PLACE SECOND IN CITY LEAGUE

From November 14 to February 18, the Cubs, Pandas, Nurses, and the RCAF team competed in the City League. At the end of the season, the Cubs stood in second place, having lost one game to the Nurses and several to the Pandas. As well as these games, the Cubs travelled with the Pandas to play in Saskatoon where they lost both games, Bottom: Lois Taylor, Myrna Empey, Hilda Schweitzer, Lois Farrington, Myrna Quigg.

WOMEN GYMNASTS HAD HOPES FOR FIRST

Balance beam routines demand flexibility and coordination.

Edmonton's Cheryl Hill placed third in the gymnastics competitions.

Many hours of practice go into developing gymnastic skills.

The Western Canada Intercollegiate Athletics Association gymnastics fought for the title this year in Edmonton. Three universities, British Columbia, Saskatchewan and Alberta, sent women to perform on the balance beam, uneven bars. Free exercise and vaulting were the two other areas of competition. Final results placed U. of S. first with British Columbia and Alberta placing second and third respectively.

The gymnastics team consisted of Cheryl Hill, Maureen Quigg, Elaine Sadd, Marcia Stevenson, Karma Hirsche, Olive Lee.

VOLLEYBALL

A good season was enjoyed by the University of Alberta volleyball players. Saskatoon witnessed the girls take first place honors in two different tournaments—the first against University of Saskatchewan, and the second against all the western universities in the W.C.I.A.A. finals. In the Calgary Provincial Open, sixteen teams competed for supremacy. University of Alberta got right into the finals against an all-star Calgary team but were defeated 15-6 and 15-13.

The Panda Volleyball team members are: Miss A. Carson (coach), Sharon MacFarlane (manager), Margo Niewchas (captain), Bette Stacy, Joanne Moon, Ida Thomson, Bev Hamilton, Myra Petts, Judy Hancock, Judi Cook, Carolyn Dyck, Christi Mowat, Mary Shearer, Laurel Schmitke.

CURLING

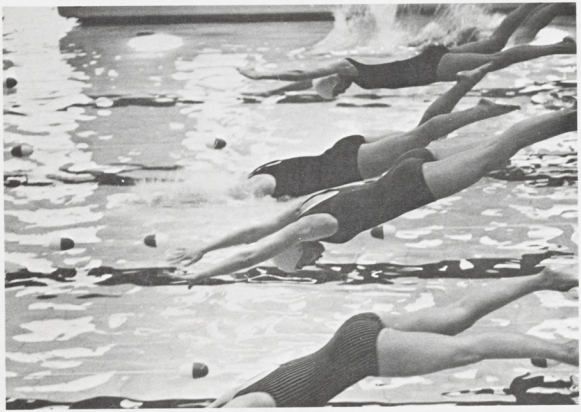

Standing: Carolyn Dyck, Elaine Souness, Cynthia Lazarenko, Lynn Carren. Kneeling: Colleen Mackenzie, Richard Price (coach), Mary-Louise Flaig.

Carolyn Dyck (lead), Mary-Louise Flaig (second), Elaine Souness (third) and Colleen MacKenzie (skip) were chosen after two months of tryout competition among 14 women to represent University of Alberta in the WCIAA curling finals in Calgary. The girls came through to capture the Women's Curling Trophy by defeating UAC 10-7 in playoff competition.

WOMEN'S INTERVARSITY SPEED SWIMMING

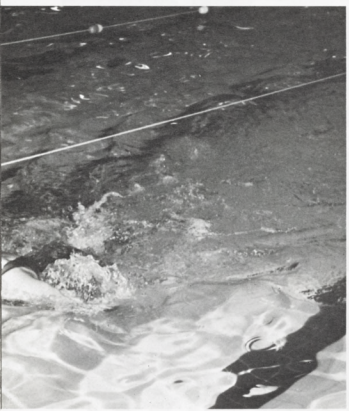

Women speed swimmers began training in October to prepare for the six meets they competed in this term. The first test of their skills came in November where the eleven member team met the South Side Swim Club in December. Then at the beginning of January, the Calgary YWCA Sharkettes and Winter Club team came to Edmonton to swim against University of Alberta. Calgary won.

The first out-of-town trip was made to Calgary on January 25, where U of A placed fourth, and the next one took the girls to Saskatoon for the WCIAA finals. Here, the team placed second to UBC by 17 points.

The team consisted of: Donna Moe, Nance Parsons, Helen Kesner, Gaye Sponell, Mary Amerongen, Bonnie Millar (captain), Lynda Norman, Ann Bentley and Betsy Kato. Divers were Bonnie McPherson and Kay Ogle.

AND DIVING

The fine form of the swimmers and divers is easily seen when the motor-drive camera captures the action in step-by-step style as is shown in the two sequences of pictures.

Excellent performances by veterans Erik Haites, Terry Nimmon, John Byrne, and Ross Normington, were not enough to thwart the strong west coast team. In the diving competition only U. of A.'s Jack Rogers placed in the top five. Our first-place finishes were limited to the 400-yd. Freestyle Relay (the team consisted of Larry Maloney, Dick Roberts, Ross Normington, and Erik Haites), and the 200-yd. Breast-stroke won by Haites, Alberta's most outstanding swimmer.

On the left: 1—Erik Haites; 3—John Byrne; 5—Brian Heffel; UBC swimmers placed 2 and 4; a U. of S. man placed 6.

Final Results: UBC—135 pts., UAE—92, U. of S.—76.

ALBERTA 0 — SASK 1

ALBERTA 0 — SASK 1

With but nine veterans in the lineup the 1964 edition of the Golden Bears Hockey Team travelled to Saskatoon to take on the pre-season favored University of Saskatchewan Huskies. The Bears were successful in their opening encounters winning convincingly 4-1 and 5-0. These victories were later disallowed as the Huskies protested that the Golden Bear's John Utendale was ineligible due to the fact he had played eight games of professional hockey (maximum allowed to maintain amateur status is five.) His ineligibility was unknown to him as well as to the Bears, however the Huskies were allowed two 1-0 victories over the Bears.

ALBERTA 7
SASKATCHEWAN 3

Paced by a three goal performance by Ian Baker, the Golden Bears skated to an impressive 7-3 victory in the first home encounter of the season. The game was a closely contested one until the third period when the Bears exploded for five quick goals. The other Bear marksmen were: John Aubin, Ed Wahl and Leigh McMillan who notched a pair.

SASKATCHEWAN 4

In the second game of the series it was again Ian Baker who led the Bears to an exciting 5-4 decision over the tiring Huskies. In the final period Baker tied the game three-all. The teams were still all even after the first extra session and Baker again saved the day by scoring the winning goal in the second sudden death overtime period. Other Golden Bear scorers were: Dick Wintermute and John Aubin.

Dale Harder, Bear goalie, robs U of S Huskie

At right Ian Baker (14) scores his sixth goal in two games to give U of A a clean sweep of their home series with U of S.

ALBERTA 0 — BRITISH COLUMBIA 5

The Golden Bears, who had previously easily handled the Thunderbirds at the Coast, showed their poorest form of the season as they took a 5-0 drubbing by the same University of British Columbia Thunderbirds. Everything went wrong for the Bears in the contest and despite the fact that they outshot and out-played the visitors they were unable to dent the seemingly unpenetratable armour of UBC goalie Jack Harris who turned aside 42 shots in registering his shutout.

ALBERTA 9
BRITISH COLUMBIA 3

In the second encounter of the weekend it was all Bears as they took a 3-1 first lead and then added six more counters in the last two periods. Ian Baker continued his pace in the lamp lighting derby as he scored twice for the winners. Terry Bicknell also notched two markers and singletons were added by: John Aubin, Ed Wahl, Fleming, Leigh McMillan and Dale Ripple. The game was an extremely hard hitting affair and the Bear's Aubin and Baker failed to answer the bell for the third period due to a broken nose and a severe charley horse respectively. The Bears outshot the 'Birds 53-21.

MANITOBA 2

At Varsity Arena the Bears continued their winning streak against the Manitoba Bisons. In the first game of the series the Bears were hard pressed to eke out a 4-3 decision which ended with the Bisons pulling out all stops in an attempt to gain the tying marker. After jumping to a 2-0 first period lead the golden ones relaxed, allowing the Manitoba crew to knot the count at 2-2 as the second period drew to a close. From that point on the Bears were forced to play solid hockey to dispose of their determined visitors.

After an exchange of goals in the third period Earl Gray (who had just returned to the Bear lineup) scored the winner to complete his two goal performance. Other goal getters for the Bears were: Ian Baker and Terry Bicknell. Dale Harder in the Alberta nets was called upon to make only 16 saves.

ALBERTA 5 — MANITOBA 2

The second game of the two game series saw the Bears spot the Bisons a 1-0 lead and then score five unanswered goals for the 5-2 victory. The teams set an extremely rugged pace through the first two periods, but, having played two games in as many days, slowed down in the third period. Goal-getters for the Bears were: Ian Baker, Jim Flemming, Dave McDermid and Ed Wahl who notched a pair.

BEARS TAKE WCIAA CHAMPIONSHIP

In Winnipeg, by virtue of their sweep of the final two games of the season played against the Manitoba Bisons, the Golden Bears finished the regular season play in sole possession of first place. Coach Drake was especially pleased with the fine play of his defensive unit as well as the outstanding netminding of goalie Dale Harder. Forward Howie Green played his finest two games of the season for the Bears contributing three timely goals in the winning cause. This win gives Alberta the right to travel to Kingston March 13 and 14 as western representatives to the national collegiate hockey championships.

Ian Baker (14) scores again—this time against the University of Manitoba Bisons.
(Note the puck in the bottom left hand corner of the net).

MEN'S CURLING

The Varsity curling team finished in a tie for third place in WCIAA competition. Skipped by Jerry Wiebe, the "rock and broom men" followed UAC and Saskatchewan respectively.

Lead Ed McIntyre, second Dick Sandilands, third Bill Mitchell, and skip Wiebe.

VALEDICTORY

JEAN E. L. COTE

Mr. Côte took part in university political activities before joining the Men's Economics Club and the History Club, becoming the president of the latter. He was also one of the Alberta delegates to the World University Service 1963 seminar in Pakistan, and was a co-winner of the Clinton J. Ford Moot Court Shield. The Alberta Law Review is edited by him.

"The best interests and present and future prospects of British North America will be promoted by a Federal Union under the Crown of Great Britain, provided such Union can be effected on principles just to the several provinces."

—London Resolutions, December 4, 1866.

One hundred years ago this summer a ship from Canada anchored in the harbour at Charlottetown, and a small boat put out, bringing ashore Macdonald, Brown, Cartier, Galt, McGee and other leading members of the new Canadian coalition government. They had come to attend the conference on Maritime union in Charlottetown, and before they left, they had set in motion the train of events which led to the Confederation of all the British North American provinces, and the formation of the third largest country in the world. Today, however, this feat is often a cause not for pride and rejoicing, but is the target of comment ranging from concern and doubt to alarm and villification. Why?

We are citizens of this nation, and are about to take our place among its electors, so that we cannot ignore the alarms which have been sounded. Therefore, let us ask ourselves whether the life and times of Confederation are at an end, and whether the Union has indeed outlived its usefulness.

Canada and the Maritimes in the 1860s were faced with a number of immediate problems, both economic and political, but the solution which Sir John A. Macdonald and George Brown adopted was chosen for other more far-reaching reasons. They built a new nation stretching from Atlantic to Pacific, and there were two things which spurred them on. The first purpose was to ensure our continued identity as a separate nation, mingling yet not obliterating our double cultural tradition, lest we disappear into the melting pot of the powerful republic to the south. The second was to give our new nation economic resources and capacity, so that we might not only stand unaided in the community of nations, but might prosper and flourish. A united Canada stretching from coast to coast possesses immense natural wealth, extensive tariff-free markets for our products, and a powerful tax base for government and defence such as no single province could hope to attain.

We in Western Canada have a special cause to be thankful for all this, for it was this Union alone which brought the tide of westward American immigration in the 1890s onto our Prairies as immigrants, and not harbingers of Manifest Destiny, so that today we are Canada's new economic frontier, and not another Oregon. The Thirties brought an economic crisis which few parts of Canada could have survived alone, least of all the Prairies, yet the united resources of nine provinces saw us through. Newfoundland, the last part of British North America to remain outside Confederation, had to surrender her independence; Canada did not.

This is an age when the world is seeking economic power through trading blocs and common markets. Canada is today one of the largest of these trading blocs, possessing a wealth and variety of natural resources equalled by few, and a potential for development of resources and industry equalled by none. It is the responsibility of every one of us to bear this continually in mind, and to support every government measure for the development of our economy through increased foreign trade, immigration, and northward expansion.

The goals of Canada are not purely economic, however. Canada was founded by the French, then conquered by the British, and every part of Canada was originally settled by either French- or English-speaking colonists. Therefore, neither language and cultural tradition is paramount, and there is a moral obligation on all of us to see that both flourish. For the same reason, other languages have not the same paramount role, not only because the great majority of Canadians are either English or French speaking, but also because whenever persons of other tongues came to Canada they came to a country which was English and French, and knew that these were the languages which they would have to speak. This is not to say, however, that we should adopt the American ideal of the melting pot, and it is precisely because we are willing to allow all cultural traditions to flourish in their diversity, that it is of such importance that Canada's independence be maintained.

These are the reasons, therefore, why the basic structure of Canada's constitution must remain as it is. Adjustments may be necessary, such as more complete bilingualism in parts of the Federal Civil Service, or more adequate revenue for the provinces, but the basic framework is indispensable. A citizen, for instance, should be able to deal with the Federal Government in Ottawa or the Quebec Government in Quebec or Montreal in either language, and may justly expect some recognition and use of both languages in those parts of Canada where there are sizable numbers of both French- and English-speaking inhabitants. But surely no one can reasonably expect to deal with the post office in Nanaimo in French, or the post office in La Tuque in English. More harmony on these language questions would be produced if both sides sought the solution the most convenient for substantial numbers of people, rather than seeking to enforce rights and principles to their utmost extent.

Therefore, we must approach Canada's problems during the next few years with a sense of proportion, and a spirit of tolerance and patience. Many demands will be made by one group or another, which we must support the Canadian and Alberta governments in receiving in a spirit of compromise and healthy scepticism. If we will only remember how small are our problems compared to what we have achieved in our first century as a nation, and if we will only realize that the basic structure of our Constitution is sounder today than it was in 1867, we will approach every new problem confident that it will be solved through calm understanding and cautious adjustment. Let us do this, that our grandchildren may remember this as the decade in which Canadians, having learned to talk to one another, to understand one another, and to trust one another, turned their energies united to the development of a greater Canada.

J. E. Côté.

CLASS HISTORY

BENTLEY Le BARON

Hopefully we awoke. Hopefully we were not too comfortable here, or if we slept comfortably (and most of us were exceedingly snug), hopefully we were shaken or jarred into morning.

I don't mean that waking up is necessarily an all-at-once sort of thing; rather it is the sort of thing that ought to keep happening over and again. Nor do I imply that we all slept until we were the class of '64. I know that there are some newly awakened, some yet mid-distance between dream and recognition, many sleep-talking still, in our graduating year.

I want to present the history of our class as of a waking up. Perhaps in one quick thrust, perhaps over a gradual and torturous time, perhaps in daily or irregular repetition, we have been letting ourselves into awareness. If some of us did not wake up even once or twice, we weren't in the class, weren't at university, haven't been here at all. Bodies filling space! These have no part in my history.

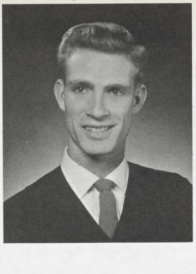

I shall not speak of our measurable history. We pressed and tagged and leapfrogged over SUB expansion and election triumphs, over debating trophies and trophies of several sorts, over parties and tests and rugger and hockey and the inevitable coffee-conversations we take such pride in. Some of those that were with us were crowded aside, or have faded underfoot; some are held upright by the jam of numbers; others found those gilded keys for which they yearned, and have unlocked monstrous doors. We have received unending waves of dignitaries, and solemnly or suddenly bestowed ourselves upon conference-minded colleagues elsewhere. We have danced, and revelled, and studied late. We have lifted library books and forgotten to read them. We have acted; we have sung. For the most part we have played the game, and most of us wear a copy of the rules more-or-less committed to heart. The Game!

But to play the game is not to awake, for the game is a dream and a carrousel.

I do not say that a wakeful man may never dream in daytime, with open eyes, or that he must not sit down to play at cards with the others—but he will not be bound and measured by the rules, for he is his own rule. I do not ask that every man get off the merry-go-round, but that he admit it is a toy horse he rides.

Some awakened, and for them the game is wide open now. Somehow there came a hint, or a hurt, or an adder of scores, that made us see and care. The game served us well when we lost a serve and it cost us dear. The game served us well when it pushed us beyond expectation, when it fatigued and frustrated us, when it ended without a decision. When we reached deep into unknown sources of energy—then we found motivation greater than the game. We found sympathy; or strange unanswerable questions; or un-tellable art. We learned the sort of communication with ourselves that showed us how to reach out to our opponents.

We made tentative live contact, then, with a few others who seemed to offer something of that same richness which we recognized but so imperfectly brought out of ourselves in exchange. And afterwards we stood back at the edge, again, to evaluate.

We built some theories about the game, and when we played again we saw that the game is more various than any theory. We left off playing, when we felt ourselves fevered with asking and prodding and dissecting. Why these parties, these parliaments, these perplexities of you and me? Why me? Why this madness of why? We could not answer—but we learned to shut up sometimes and listen for quiet answers.

We became humble, though not before authority; our modesty is judiciously tinctured with arrogance. We grew reverent—toward sex, and suffering, and the sunrise—but not toward mystery babylon. We are balanced —but hopefully not too balanced. We learned to value honesty, which means we would show ourselves as we really are.

We did not learn anything about perfect systems or absolute beauty. We brushed against the dark side, and learned a very great caring, for with all our great aloneness, we, too, we proud ones, are the poor, the ignorant, the sick—out there. When we awoke, we recognized something in us—it had been well layered over—something akin to the despair of him beyond this ivory bubble, the despair of that man and that woman for whom the game is no amusement but ever a sordid and terrifying travesty on life. We awoke to suffering, and it may be that we shall not dream innocent dreams again.

We woke up to paradox, to polarity and contradiction, to isolation up against elusive inter-penetration, to ambiguities of sun and shadow, which we came to value. The crack—in everything God has made—is to let in light.

Of course some cannot quit the game, for how can they quit who never learned to play? Some don't dream at all, and that is tragic. But these are not here—my history concerns them little. Some have never known a passion for quality, or for questions. They may be content—who can know?—yet we are not them.

For some, our years of university have been a useful tool. I was happy to come here, for I wanted the sort of intellectual discipline and the sort of social freedom one may find here. I am happy to leave here, for I carry curiosity with me. I leave without lingering or regret, much as I lay off my overcoat with the springtime.

How can I tell of you? You are awake; you are great;
yet you are small and hidden. You are.
Looking with side-curved head curious what will come next,
Both in and out of the game and watching and wondering at it.

—Whitman

ACTIVITIES

Various organizations on campus established welcoming booths for the benefit of freshmen.

Among other things, back-rubbing attracted the attention of women-frosh.

Freshmen meet new friends at the inaugural tea.

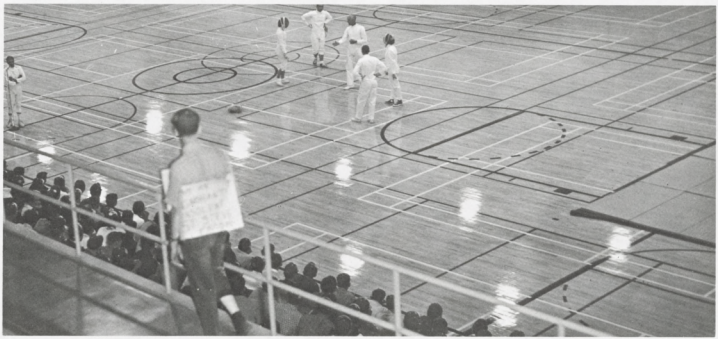

FRESHMAN INTRODUCTION WEEK

From the initial tea held on Sunday, September 22, through the diverse activities of Freshman Introduction Week and culminating in the Formal Admission Ceremonies, a full schedule of entertainment awaited the frosh. Many freshman students attended the Activities Night held in the Physical Education Building. Others found that the mock Oxford Debate was enlightening. Various campus groups vied for the services of the new students. A rookie night offered by the Gateway and an opportunity to learn the art of radio announcing from U of A radio seemed to be most favorably received. Enjoyed by all Freshman students was the Gold Key reception. Featured entertainment was the Take Fours, a well-known campus folk-singing group. On Friday, the civic reception held at the Sales Pavilion drew a great number of students. A final highlight to the week was the Steak n' Stomp on Saturday evening.

Chess proved popular among freshman.

Back-rubbing was the ultimate in '63.

During Activity Night, freshmen witnessed benefits of sound physical constitution.

One of the newer and more prominent activities during registration proved to be finger-pointing.

A moment of peace and quiet in a secluded corner allowed for reading of acquired literature.

FRESHMAN BATTLE COMPLEXITIES OF UNIVERSITY LIFE

Faced with the bewilderment and frenzied activity of Introduction Week and the equally taxing chore of registration, many freshmen students found adjustment to university life difficult. Which club or organization to join, what courses to take and what books to buy were only a few questions faced by new students. What seemed to cloud and confuse the picture even more was the location of various buildings on campus. Countless were the times when the kindly advice of upperclassmen was solicited. More than one freshman was moved to thank the world for a courteous senior. It remained only for time to eventually answer all freshmen questions. When that moment arrived male and female frosh alike wondered aloud why people claimed that university was bewildering. After all, weren't upperclassmen utterly confused during registration?

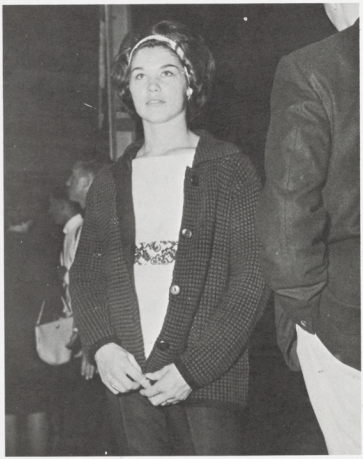

Although utter confusion reigned during registration some students knew what they wanted — to help or to promote?

REGISTRATION PART 4

Registration Part 4, proved to be an elusive object for freshmen and upperclassmen alike. One senior was moved to comment, "I have a dreadful image of some small girl coming up to me about mid-February and saying, 'Can you tell me where I can find Part 4 of registration?' Shudder".

Captivated by the magic of some Senior's words of wisdom, freshmen looked on with an air of awe.

Through the Gold Key Reception and the various dances held throughout the week, Freshmen were introduced to the types of extra-curricular activity they could expect to attend on campus during the coming seven months. It remained for Doctor Johns to impress the fact that the new students were expected to attend to their studies in the first place and their personal entertainment, secondly. This university truth was reaffirmed at the Formal Admission Ceremony. Only in each individual mind could this fertile idea come to rest. To those who embraced it, a diploma in '67 can be expected.

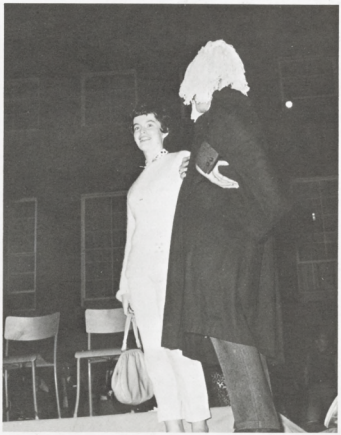

Some were even more awe-struck than others.

One moment witnesses our young, unassuming freshette laughing, holding hands with her admirer.

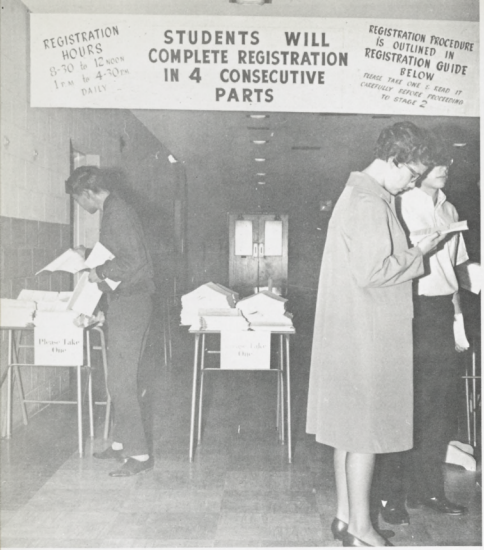

The long arm of the law intercedes and arrests our heroine for conduct in public unbecoming of a young lady. . .the judging . . . the sentencing . . . fifteen minutes of penance sitting on the judge's knee.

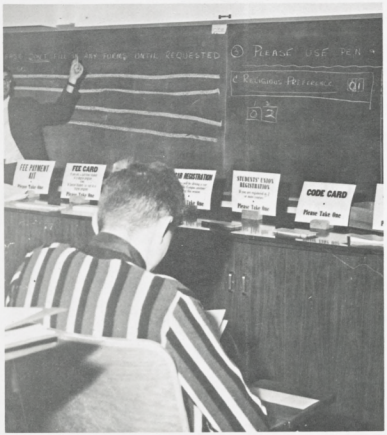

REGISTRATION

What was thought to be a simplified and directed form of registration proved to be the exact opposite. The impact of registration fell on freshman upperclassmen alike. IBM cards, direction pointers and signs, Class schedules and wary commissioners were the order of the day. Confusion and turmoil was evident throughout the week.

Everything seems to be stated simply and directly in the registration guide. It should not be too confusing.

Nine more cards.

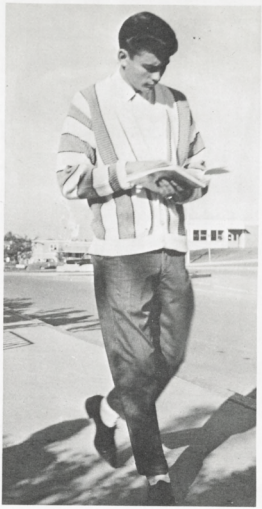

There are even a few people to tell us where we should be going.

O my God!

CONFUSION

There must be some step I left out.

I missed something.

Somehow the commissioner seems to be amazed that we made it this far.

Handing in your acquired IBM cards meant a completed registration, but most students just felt finished.

BLOCK "A" CHOOSES MISS FRESHETTE

If I concentrate hard enough, maybe I won't step on her feet.

Patti Wynn — "Miss Freshette"

This year's choice for freshman queen proved to be an even more difficult task than any other previous year. Faced with five personable and beautiful candidates, Block "A" finally chose Miss Patti Wynn as "Miss Freshette". Chosen on the basis of beauty, poise and personality, the newly crowned queen will reign till the end of the academic year.

Block "A" presented corsages to the queen contestants.

FOOTBALL WEEKEND

A much-awaited and well-liked feature of the sports year is football weekend. Held on a weekend in early October it typifies the spirit and festive mood of the autumn season. In conjunction with football weekend are held various Homecoming exercises. The climax of the festivities is the Saturday afternoon football game. It provides an occasion for everyone to cheer Alberta on to victory.

As the effigy begins to burn, the ceremonial chant for an Alberta victory is heard.

The helmet of the effigied football player burns quickly away as the fire, encouraged by the shouts of football enthusiasts leaps higher and higher.

The U of A cheerleading squad emphasizes the fact that pep rallies are enjoyed by all.

NATIONAL CONGRESS

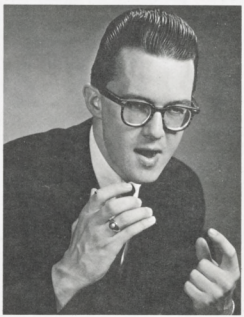

The National Federation of Canadian University Students met in its 27th Annual Congress at the University of Alberta from September 20th to October 5th. The Congress is the supreme policy making and legislative body of NFCUS, which is the National Student Union. The major topic considered at this year's Congress was biculturalism. Another topic placed under consideration was academic freedom. It was at this time that RCMP investigations were underway on a number of Canadian campuses. It was generally felt by all delegates that even though extremely dissented points of view were expressed on certain subjects, a great deal of important subject matter was resolved.

The NFCUS chairman enlightened the banquet with humorous anecdotes.

Dave Jenkins, CUS President.

ULTIMATUMS AND COMPROMISES CHARACTERIZED THE CONVENTION

During the course of debate on biculturalism, Quebec delegates led by the University of Montreal, threatened to sever all ties with English-speaking students. According to Mister David Jenkins, NFCUS President, the French-speaking students felt that NFCUS was not adequately recognizing their rights and the only remedy was for them to form their own wing. The French leaders pointed to the recent French-English splits in national groups such as the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Social Credit Party for justification. As difficult and delicate the situation seemed to be, it was amicably solved by a last minute compromise. The 27th Congress unanimously passed nine resolutions which established a division in the lower structure of NFCUS to incorporate French and English caucus. By making an honest effort to meet the problem in a forthright manner a solution, agreeable to all, was obtained.

W. U. S. ACTIVITIES

Once again the Treasure Van made its annual visit to the U of A Campus. This year proved to be even more successful than those in the past by surpassing the previous Canadian record of sales by five thousand dollars. Its operation involved more than one thousand students helping in the promotion and selling of the unique articles which came from all over the world. Proceeds of the venture are to further the aims of the World University Service.

STUDENT COUNCIL SETTLED MAJOR ISSUES

Student Council this year, despite criticism to the opposite, proved to be efficient and well organized. Among the more prominent achievements of the council were a newly negotiated yearbook contract increasing the size of the book yet decreasing the cost; assisting in the establishment of an entertainment circuit; hosting of the National Congress of the Canadian Union of students; reorganizing of the Students' Union Office both in terms of utilization of space and in personnel; and finally, the examination of SUB Expansion proposals.

The train trip to U.B.C. proved to be one of the more riotous weekends for football enthusiasts — and others.

SUB EXPANSION

The much awaited findings and proposals of SUB Expansion committee were unveiled December 1 at Students' Council meeting.

President Cragg's introduction of SUB Expansion Committee's ideas and plans were well received by most interested observers.

WAUNEITA SOCIETY

The Wauneita Society was established in 1909-10 to promote friendship among women students attending the University of Alberta. "Wauneita" in the Indian Language means "kindhearted". Located upstairs in SUB is the unique and beautiful Wauneita Lounge, decorated in knotty pine with maroons and greens enhancing the atmosphere of the bravery and unity of the tribe Wauneita. Here new Freshettes become loyal members of Wauneita at the candlelight initiation ceremony held during Freshmen Introduction Week. Other activities such as the annual formal titled "Autumn Serenade" this year, The Big and Little Sister program, coffee parties and the Annual White Gift Christmas Party are all part of the closeknit Wauneita Society.

Once again the Wauneita Society has enjoyed a successful year and looks forward to many more of the same.

MED - QUEEN — 1964

Med Show '64, directed by Dick Bowen, once more proved to be a highlight of the entertainment season. Held in Studio Theatre, the show was sold out at every performance. Those who did manage to obtain tickets were pleased with the many humorous and risque skits. The melodious songs of the Gallstone Singers and the Tale of the Egyptian Daddy highlighted the first half of the program. "Through the Looking Glass-Darkly" presented by the Class of '64 closed the program on a somewhat sarcastic note.

MODEL PARLIAMENT CAMPAIGN DULL

It was clear, after an extremely dull campaign, that campus political feelings, whatever they were, were not very strong. The Liberal and Conservative parties, through the course of the campaign followed the principles of their national parties closely, adding details calculated to appeal to the university student. New Democrats, attempting to increase their vote in residence, took the most open stand against the increase in residence rates. Due to the provincial government's feelings toward increased rates, the Social Credit Party on campus, found itself in great difficulty. Constitutionalists drew support as a result of being uncommitted to any national party.

MODEL PARLIAMENT DISSOLVED FIRST NIGHT

Model Parliament this year sat only for two and one-half hours, but the time was well filled. Debate in Reply to the Throne Speech led to Opposition Leader Gordon Young's motion of non-confidence, seconded by Constitutionalist Leader Dave Shugarman. Following appeals to the Speaker and criticism launched by all party leaders, the Liberal government began a filibuster, intended to fill time allotted for Debate-in-Reply. This would have postponed a vote on the non-confidence motion. The Opposition had an extension of the time passed, allowing the confidence question to be put. As the question was about to be put, Prime Minister Pitfield rose, and presented a writ from the Governor-General which dissolved the Parliament.

U.N. MODEL ASSEMBLY AND CIVIC DEMONSTRATIONS PLAY MAJOR ROLE IN CAMPUS POLITICAL LIFE

A model General Assembly, led by Professor J. King Gordon of the political science department as Secretary-General, was held in Convocation Hall. Professor Gordon said the proceedings ran smoothly and in most cases the governments' points of view were well represented by the delegates. Among the resolutions debated and rejected by the fifty delegates was the question of a peace force. If U of A representatives have a say in the matter, the United Nations will have no peace force.

A group of university students decided that there was a definite moral question involved in the election of William Hawrelak as Mayor of the city of Edmonton. It was their considered opinion that the people of Edmonton had not realized the question of morality in voting for Mr. Hawrelak.

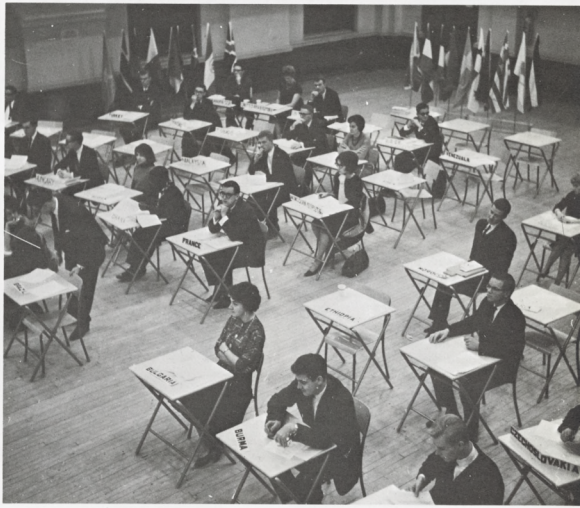

Bearing placards which proclaimed "Honesty is a Must for Justice" and "For Integrity in Public Office," they picketed City Hall.

The consensus of opinion was that the demonstrations served to do little other than to provide newspaper readers with humorous reading material.

SONGFEST '64

Rick Lyons—Songfest Director.

The twelfth annual "Songfest" was held on February 17, 1964. As in the previous eleven years the audience listened favorably to the pleasant sounds of the competing fraternities. "Songfest" '64 was run in a slightly different manner this year. In preceding years each fraternity sang two songs that were adjudicated; however, this year they each sang one fraternity song and another song to be judged. "Songfest" '64 brought out the spirit of the fraternities by allowing each fraternity to sing their favorite song. Judged the best sounding fraternities were Delta Gamma and Phi Delta Theta singing "Mon Coeur fe Recommande Vous" and "Ride the Chariot" respectively. Sigma Alpha Mu won the plaque signifying the fraternity with the highest overall average. Individual scholarships were awarded to the six individual students, one selected from each fraternity.

SONGFEST THEME- FRATERNITIES AT THEIR CROSSROADS

The theme for "Songfest" '64 was " Fraternities at Their Crossroads." The M.C.'s Ian MacDonald and Burn Evans discussed, with the song leaders, their opinions on relocation and the idea of a fraternity row. Another different feature of "Songfest" was the duet composed and sung by Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Sigma fraternities proposing a less serious tone for "Songfest." The Zete's cleaned up both the stage and their act this year, to the mixed dismay and relief of students and parents respectively.

Kappa Alpha Theta directed by Deanne Stepchuk sang for their fraterity song "The Spirit of Theta".

An excursion to Al Oeming's Game Farm was a feature of University Summer School.

Social evenings allowed students to relax after a day's work in the class room. Apparently some teachers are straight.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the summer outing to the Game Farm. Many teachers expressed the opinion that summer school courses were easier to handle than some of their classroom students.

SUMMER SCHOOL '63

For those students attending school on campus during the summer of 1963, diverse activities were planned for their enjoyment. Ranging from archery to an excursion to the Alberta Game Farm, the activities proved to be popular with the hard-working summer students. Tennis and swimming occupied the attention of a majority of the students.

Most teachers felt that summer school was the most enjoyable part of their year. It is no wonder that they enjoy being students for a portion of the year.

Students this year witnessed a tense and rather interesting election campaign. Only two of the available positions were filled by acclamation. Competition for the other offices was fierce and exciting. Kick-lines, posters and speeches represented the core of the propagandizing methods used by candidates. Many expressed the view that on election night only one or two ballots would separate the victorious from the defeated. History now shows that the majority were wrong. What prompted the student population to vote significantly more for some candidates than for others when all indications pointed to a close election? As in many other instances, the question must remain unanswered.

Contestants in a democratic election make use of every possible communication media. The most successful has been the poster. No wall, no pillar, no post escapes the pictures and promises of the election candidates. Some are read; others, ignored. No one yet really knows what type or what method of campaigning will be the most successful in a given campaign. The only accepted idea is that the poster will continue to play a significant role in future election campaigns.

The battle has been fought. Perhaps, it was won; perhaps it was lost. Whatever the case, posters played a significant part in the outcome.

TRI- SERVICE BALL

Tri-Service Ball, organized and run by the officer-cadets of the three services on the University of Alberta campus, was a successful event this year. The formal dance held at Hamilton Galt Barracks was attended by more than five hundred people. A new innovation this year was the decoration of the hall in a theme representing a nineteenth century European Military Ball. Patron of this year's ball was the Chancellor of the University, Judge Cairns. Among the distinguished guests were the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Page, Brigadier and Mrs. Leech, Brigadier and Mrs. Ziegler, and Commander and Mrs. Rolf.

A formal portrait of Queen Elizabeth II dominated the scene of the annual ball.

A small portion of the invited guests seated at the head table.

Most of the older officers were content to let the cadets of the three services do the dancing.

VARSITY GUEST WEEKEND

An estimated total of over twenty thousand people visited the campus during VGW.

Many people just milled about, confused and bewildered over the size and complexity of the University campus.

Some people came to look at the campus; some came to socialize; and, some came to find out what University was all about. The University of Alberta's annual, Varsity Guest Weekend, gave them all a chance to actually see what campus life was like. On Saturday, the final day of the university's open house, thousands of people flooded the campus. To guide visitors from building to building and exhibit to exhibit, information bureaus and guides were established at strategic points on the campus. An Oxford Debate, performances by the University Male Chorus, classroom lectures, glass-blowing displays and various other demonstrations and displays attracted the attention of visitors. In addition, two dances, and the productions of Hamlet and Varsity Varieties '64 provided evening entertainment. Only one regret was expressed through the course of the weekend—that there was so much to see that one did not have enough time to see it all.

This is a lecture theatre?

Well, I'll be!

FACES MIRRORED IMPRESSIONS OF '64 VGW GUESTS

Through the lens of a camera, the moods and impressions of campus visitors can be caught and preserved for those who participated on the innumerable Weekend activities. Whether it was a serious intent face of an individual bent on absorbing the material in a sample lecture of the face of a student who devoted a great deal of time and effort to the success of VGW, the camera searched them out to recognize them for their individuality, their moods and their thoughts.

Varsity Guest Weekend, 1964, was an immense success. The vivid expressions on the faces of the guests more than attests to this fact.

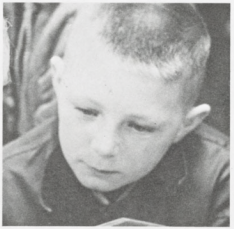

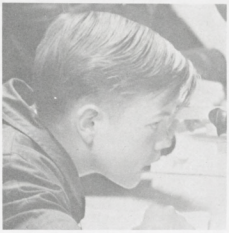

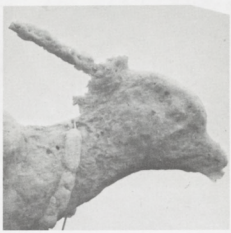

Pat Thurston—EUS Carnival Queen.

CROWNING OF CARNIVAL QUEEN HIGHLIGHTED WEEKEND

Frantic days of campaigning for the title of Queen of the Education Carnival were climaxed at the huge Friday night Moccasin Dance. Crowned Queen of the Carnival was Pat Thurston, a fourth year student. The other two contestants were Sharon Wozney, and Janelle Holmes. Held in the Ice Arena, the Moccasin Dance attracted a large number of university students and visitors alike.

Another extremely popular feature held in conjunction with the Education Carnival is the annual Ice Events. Featuring "Chuckwagon" ice races, broomball games and tug-of-wars, the ice events are contested by teams from both fraternities and faculties. This year's ice events also featured a hilarious tug-of-war between two competing women's teams.

Fraternities and faculties entered teams in the Chuckwagon ice races held in the Ice Arena.

TWENTY THOUSAND PEOPLE VISIT CAMPUS

Friday and Saturday saw 3,000 persons at the arena's Moccasin Dance, full houses at both Studio Theatre's Hamlet and the Jubilee Auditorium's socio-politico satire, Mary-Go-Round, 2,500 at afternoon wrestling exhibitions at the main gymnasium, 1,500 there later for a basketball game and as many as 9,000 people passing through, places like the Student's Union Building's Radio Society quarters. It was estimated that over 20,000 people converged on the U. of A. campus, on Saturday, the last day of Varsity Guest Weekend.

At the end of a long day, restlessness and fatigue portrayed the weary visitors.

ICE STATUES

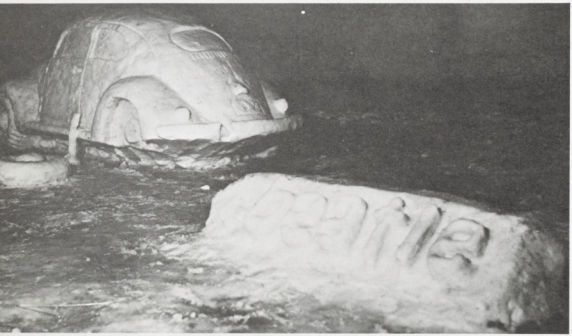

Med students found time to construct this statue.

Members of Delta Kappa Epsilon, winner of the Grand Aggregate Trophy for its figure depicting a character standing on a teapot, typified the many hours spent by many perfecting their ice statues.

Somehow a "Beatle" and a "Volks" go together.

Engineers were responsible for this particular "objet d'art."

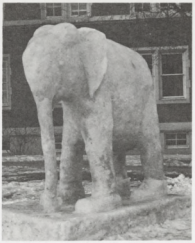

Swee'pea proved to be a popular attraction.

Whatever it is, it's great.

A typical Med statue.

Ingenuity and hard work combined to make this statue one of the most appealing on campus.

The risque statue in front of Lister Hall.

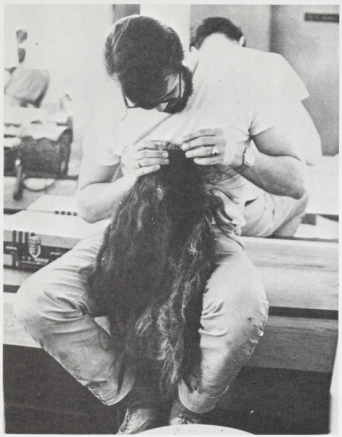

A stony-faced figure like this one demanded a great amount of time and effort on the part of many students.

The residence students built this very timely and effective ice figurine. Perhaps, it may, in time, serve its purpose.

"Beatlemania" was the craze of the day. Fittingly enough, a "beatle" is being flushed down the toilet where some believe he belongs.

One of Madame Bolshevik's boys prepares his costume.

Varsity Varieties '64, titled Mary-Go-Round, proved to be just that. Playing to overflowing audiences on the three nights it was held, Varieties '64 was a howling success. Led by the zany antics of the man, Roger Hamilton and the woman, Donna Cook, the cast of the socio-political satire poked fun at the age-old battle of the sexes.

VARITIES '64 HUMOUR AND SATIRE

Humorous and satiric jests in Varsity Varities '64 were pointed at everyone from the Mayor of the city, William Hawrelak to the physicist, Isaac Newton. Not to be forgotten were the hair-raising "Beatles." Directed by Phillip Silver and produced by Wes Stefan, Mary-go-round will be remembered as the production which enlightened the battle of man versus woman.

Glen Reid and a host of friends spoof the Bolsheviks.

What would Doctor Vant say about this?

CAMPUS FASHION SHOW ATTRACTS FUTURE STUDENTS

A little known feature of Varsity Guest Weekend is the Campus Fashion Show held in conjunction with the weekend of festivities. Presented this year at a local downtown department store, the show previewed college fashions of today and tomorrow. Models were students from the University campus. Many high school students, most of them prospective college men and coeds, were attracted to the fashion display.

In the top picture, a typical campus suit is modeled for display.

A pretty coed models a dress any woman would like to wear.

A typical college man with shortsleeved sweater and turtlenecked pullover.

Yes, sonny, I know what I am talking about.

ACTIVITY IS KEYNOTE OF WEEKEND FESTIVITIES

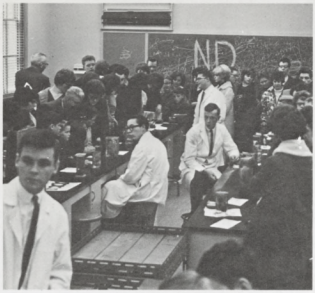

From atomic accelerators, human skeletons, Venus flytraps, poisonous Diefenbaker plants, to preserved foetuses of armadillos and statues of Aphrodite, Varsity Guest Weekend presented a veritable myriad of demonstrations and displays to satisfy the curious visitors. Glass-blowing, oil formation and plastic-making attracted their share of the attention. To those who were medically-minded a display showing how a heart can beat for eight hours outside the body proved interesting.

Even the campus patrol was busy.

The University Male Chorus provided fine entertainment at three Saturday afternoon concerts.

POOL SHOW AND LECTURES ATTRACT ATTENTION OF MANY

The sub-aquatic pool show, held on Saturday afternoon, thrilled the many weekend visitors of Varsity Guest Weekend. Presented by the girls swim team and physical education students, the unusual display featured, among many things, precision swimming and humerous skits. Many thought that this display was perhaps the most entertaining one on campus.

One wonders what the rest looks like.

Disbelief was mirrored in the eyes of many visitors.

ACADEMIC AND SOCIAL ACTIVITIES CHARACTERIZED STUDENT LIFE

The great majority of students found, through the course of the scholastic year, that a generous amount of academic endeavour coupled with a relaxing taste of social activity led to a successful end. Dances, hootenannies, bowling and curling and movies proved to be the type of entertainment most welcomed by college men and coeds. Some were even fortunate enough to blend together both the academic and social obligations. Study dates were undoubtedly the most popular method of doing this. Whatever the case, students generally agree that university days are the most carefree and wonderful days of one's life.

COLLEGE LIFE: AN EXPERIMENT IN LIVING AND LEARNING

College is different. It is an experiment in living. It includes more lessons than all the text books in the world could ever supply the most diligent scholar. It is change mixed with routine. It is leaving the security of intimate friends and small high schools, and venturing into competition with thousands.

Possibly for the first time in your life, you can find yourself with more than you can do. Possibly for the first time in your life, you are challenged by a truly gifted teacher. Possibly for the first time, you feel the prick of intellectual curiosity, and the corresponding thrill of learning something important. YOU make your own college world.

REMEMBER ...

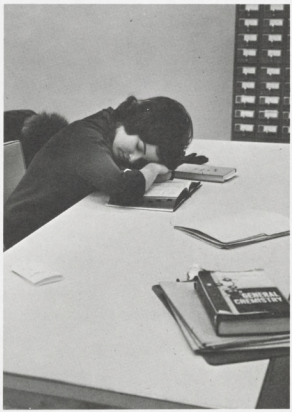

With so much going on, eight hours sleep becomes a rarity.

A quick check, a last stroke of the brush, and then it's off to classes.

There's still the old grind. . . .

sometimes

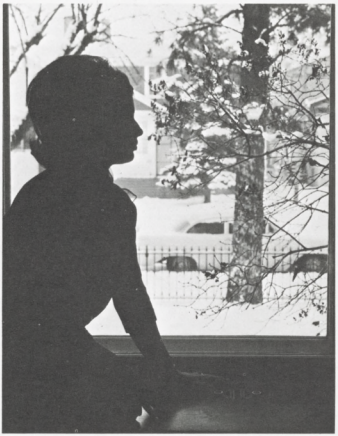

There's always someone to meet. . . .

someone to talk to on the phone. . . .

someone to go for coffee with. . . . .

University life is definitely an experiment in living.

YEAR 1

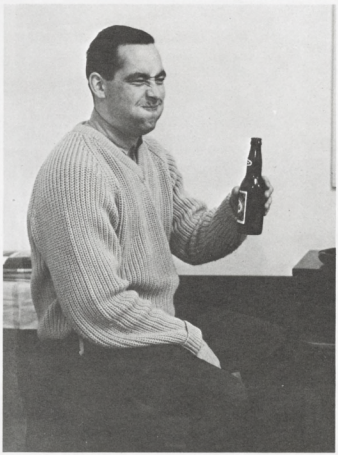

Doesn't Know Better. . . .

YEAR 2

. . .Tries Experimenting. . .

YEAR 3

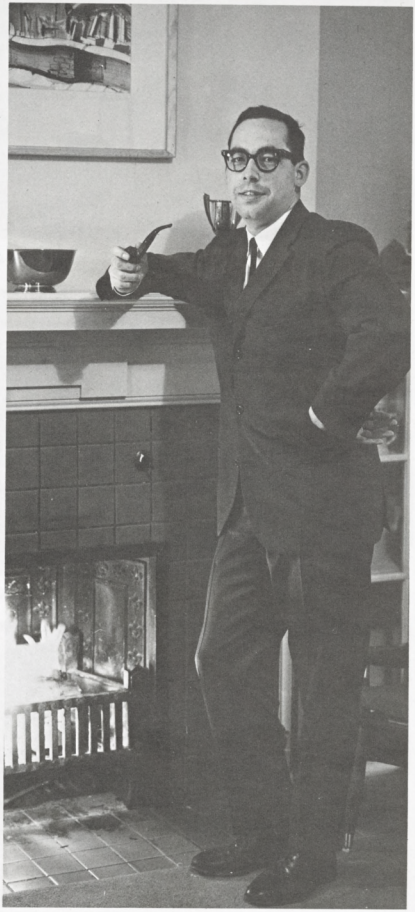

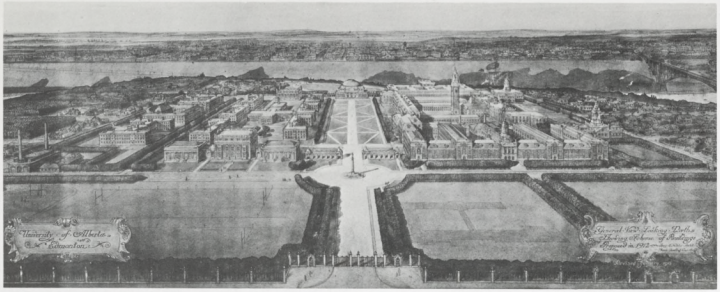

. . .Is Learning. . .

YEAR 4

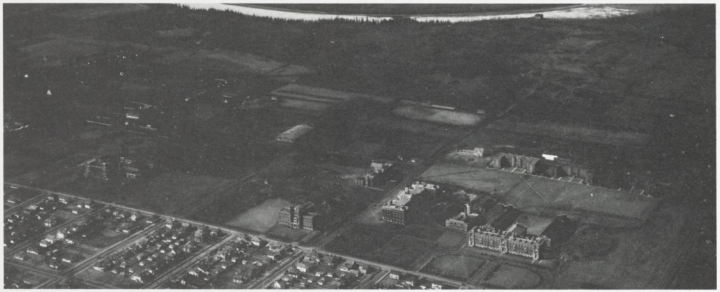

. . .And Now He's Made It! !

OUR CAMPUS

The U of A campus was originally supposed to look like the above plan.

In 1929, it looked like this.

And today, it appears like so.

THIS BOOK

This book has been set in Linotype Futura. Body copy is 10 point, while identifications and captions are 8 point. The book was printed in Winnipeg by Canadian Student Yearbooks, who also made the colour separations. The paper stock is 80 pound offset, except the first signature which is 100 pound. Colour photography was done by the University of Alberta Photo Services. Special thanks are due to the Department of Extension for their allowing the printing of the pictures on pages 366 and 367.
